Governor Tagged One-Time Member Of IPR— McCarthy Assails Stevenson's Aids

Wisconsin Senator Calls Demo Nominee 'Part And Parcel Of Acheson-Hiss-Lattimore Group'

CHICAGO (INS)—Sen. Joseph McCarthy lashed Adlai Stevenson Monday for one-time membership in the Institute of Pacific Relations, for his deposition in behalf of Alger Hiss and for his selection of five "advisers."

The junior Republican senator from Wisconsin claimed various points he made in his speech "prove the case against Stevenson," but deleted a statement from his advance text which read:

"I do not state that Stevenson was a Communist or pro-Communist."

McCarthy was unable to complete his 17-page speech before he was cut off the air when his time ran out, but concluded his address before his Chicago audience.

He told his audience after he was off television and radio that the Communist Daily Worker was pro-Stevenson. A spokesman for the newspaper denied this and said the publication had steadily condemned both the Republican and Democratic candidates in favor of Progressive party candidate Vincent Hallinan.

McCarthy in his broadside on Stevenson's record over a period of years, declared the Democratic presidential nominee is "part and parcel of the Acheson-Hiss-Lattimore group."

The senator said, "I shall give you the history of the Democratic candidate... who endorses and would continue the suicidal Kremlin-shaped policies of this nation."

$50 a Plate Dinner
The senator addressed 1,150 persons at a $50-a-plate television-radio broadcast dinner in Chicago.

(The Associated Press said the speech, broadcast and televised nationwide, was sponsored by a private group headed by Gen. Robert E. Wood, chairman of Sears, Roebuck & Co.)

Gov. Stevenson referred to McCarthy's speech Monday afternoon and said the senator's audience "will hear perhaps the most significant of all smears of all time when the junior senator from Wisconsin tries to save an election for the Republicans in the last few days."

McCarthy quoted Stevenson as saying, "I have established my headquaters here in Springfield, with people of my own choosing," and then went on to denounce his aids.

Opens Up on Wyatt
The senator said that Wilson Wyatt, the governor's personal campaign manager, is the former head of the left-wing Americans for Democratic Action, which includes among its major aims "condemnation of the FBI for exposing spies like Coplan and Gubitchev."

McCarthy charged that Arthur Schlesinger Jr., Stevenson's chief speech writer, is former vice-chairman of the ADA and that Schlesinger wrote in 1946: "Even freedom-loving Americans look wistfully at Russia."

McCarthy declared: "I don't think you are looking wistfully at Russia. If Stevenson, by calamity should get in the White House, what would Schlesinger's job be then?"

McCarthy also asserted that Schlesinger had written: "I believe that the Communist Party should be granted freedom of political action and that Communists should be allowed to teach in universities, so long as they do not disqualify themselves by intellectual distortions in the classrooms."

Says FBI Attacked
The senator continued: "Stevenson says, 'Judge me by the people I choose as my advisers.' Here you have the philosophy of his chief adviser, his speech writer, laid bare."

Also attacked by McCarthy was Bernard DeVoto, another Stevenson speech preparation assistant, who the senator said "has violently attacked our strongest defense against Communists, the FBI."

ADA Replies

WASHINGTON (INS)—The Americans for Democratic Action declared Monday night that Sen. McCarthy's "attack is not against Communists but against liberals."

In a statement issued after the Wisconsin Republican senator's speech in Chicago, the ADA said:

"It was the liberals in the ADA, not McCarthy, who deflated and sank the pro-Wallace third party. McCarthy's telecast has proved only what everyone else already knew: Namely, that ADA is passionately devoted to democratic civil liberties and will continue to fight for the rights of all Americans."

Airport Profit To City Drops To $22,742

Net profit on the operation of the Lincoln Municipal Airport dropped to $22,742.80 for the fiscal year ended Aug. 31 as compared to a net of $56,627.27 for the preceding year.

Operating revenue for the 1951-52 fiscal year was $92,463.79, a drop of $39,579.36 from 1950-51. Operating expenses, however, dropped just $5,694.89 as that item hit $86,720.99 for 1951-52.

The largest items of decreased revenues were hangar rentals going from $13,012 in 1950-51 to $4,463 in 1951-52, warehouse rentals falling from $20,856 to $9,375, academic buildings rentals going from $5,899 to $273, miscellaneous rentals going from $5,270 to $2,204 and railroad and equipment rentals going from $22,991 to $13,589.

Airport tenants left their quarters during the year due to the reactivation of the field by the Air Force.

The annual report, filed by Director of Parks, Public Property and Improvements D. L. Erickson, also shows a balance of $87,572 in the aviation fund as of Aug. 31. The fund contained $58,909 at the end of last fiscal year.

Receipts affecting the aviation fund totaled $94,851 during 1951-52. Operating expenses for the period were $66,188.

Judge Named Head Of Memorial Day Observance Group

County Judge Herbert Ronin was elected general chairman of the Memorial Day Observance Association Monday evening at the organization's annual meeting at the YMCA.

John Lunceford was elected co-chairman, and Jean Shankland, secretary-treasurer.

Retiring general chairman, who presided at the meeting, was Brig. Gen. Guy Henninger.

The association is composed of representatives from veterans organizations and patriotic societies in Lincoln.

Lad Recovering From Gun Wound

NORFOLK, Neb. (AP)—A 9-year-old Norfolk boy Monday was hospitalized here recovering from a flesh wound suffered when a shotgun accidentally discharged.

The injured boy is Larry Sullivan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Sullivan. He was wounded in the left thigh and right calf.

The 410 shotgun was being handled at the time by Larry's 14-year-old brother, Robert.

Members of the family said the accident occurred when Robert closed the bolt of the gun while standing a few feet from a car. The charge passed through the left rear door and struck Larry.

The boys' father was with them at the time. They were west of Petersburg, getting ready to hunt, and weren't able to find a doctor until they reached Neligh.

their construction job on the new Trinity Lutheran Church, 12th and H streets. Marvin Robinson, chairman of the industrywide construction section for the current drive, estimates the donations by workers will total $15,000. Others on the committee are Jim Critchfield, Sidney Campbell, Garrett Vryheid, Francis Liebershal, and Harold Hoskins. (Star Photo.)

CATTLE, NOT ANTS—Pens were jammed Monday as the Omaha Stock Yards had a near record run of 34,460 cattle and calves. The animals, part of total livestock receipts of more than 65,000 head, look more like ants in this aerial view of the stock yards. (AP Wirephoto Monday Night.)

Eisenhower Claims: Problems Too Tough For Adlai

Mentality 'Completely Untutored' For World Affairs, General Says

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower proclaimed all across Pennsylvania Monday an unshakable determination to go to Korea, if elected president, and try to "diminish this flow of American blood."

The Republican presidential nominee, attacking his Democratic opponent, Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson, as "completely untutored in the tough business of world relations," told cheering Pennsylvanians he is going over "no matter what anybody says."

In this bustling city center, Eisenhower coupled a repetition of his promise to try to gain security in Korea with a heavy-handed swat at the administration on grounds it is destroying economic security at home.

Overflow Crowd
An overflow crowd fought to get the 11,000 seats in the Hunt Armory, but many thousands never made it. Those who did gave the general a tremendous roaring welcome.

He got a big hand when he said almost at the outset of his speech: "So long as a single American soldier faces enemy fire in Korea, the honorable ending of the Korean War and the securing of honorable peace in the world must be the first—the urgent and unshakable purpose of a new administration."

But he said earlier at Johnstown there is "no quick patent medicine cure" for Korea, although we can do better than we have done.

Stevenson has suggested the place to settle the Korean War is in Moscow, Eisenhower had this come-back:

"It betrays again the mentality that is completely untutored in the tough business of world relations. It is the cry of men whose formula for dealing with Soviet aggression has been openly stated in terms of 'give and concede.' "It is the cry of a candidate who, before this campaign changed his (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3.)

Omaha Cattle, Calf Run Next To Record High

OMAHA (AP)—Omaha had a cattle and calf run of 35,460 on Monday, second only to the all-time record of 38,500 head received two weeks ago, the Livestock Foundation of Omaha reported.

Last week the total was 35,320 giving Omaha the three biggest Mondays in its 68-year history.

The total livestock receipts on Monday were more than 65,000 head, making Omaha the world's largest livestock market for the 9th Monday in a row.

Monday's run also included the one-millionth sheep head of sheep received in 1952.

Enforcement Of 15-Minute Zone Rule Ordered

The City Council has ordered the enforcement, with four exceptions, of its recently approved resolution establishing all 15 minute parking zones at the far end of blocks in line with the flow of traffic.

Immediate action will now be taken by the Police Department in painting out some 30 to 35 15-minute zones now located at the near end or middle of blocks. The far end ruling was approved about six weeks ago as a matter of uniformity and safety as recommended by the Police Traffic Department and George Barton, consulting traffic engineer from Chicago.

In its four exceptions, the Council acted under a provision of the resolution allowing exceptions to the law at the discretion of the Council. Applications were approved for 15 minute parking in the middle of the following blocks:

Positions Reoccupied By Marines

South Koreans Also Win Swaying Battle

SEOUL (AP)—U.S. Marines Tuesday restored all positions in the West and South Koreans won a swaying action in the center in Korea's fierce "battle of the hills."

Front line reports from AP Correspondents Milo Farnetti and John Randolph gave these new sizeups of the military situation:

1. In the west—men of the U.S. First Marine Division who had been knocked off "The Hook," 10 miles northeast of the true town of Panmunjom Sunday night by 1,500 Chinese Reds, reoccupied it and mopped up the last Red resistance at 6 a.m.

Had Withdrawn
The Marines, who had wrested the main crest in vicious close quarters fighting Monday, fell back Monday night under withering Communist artillery fire. But early Tuesday the Marines reoccupied the ground without difficulty.

2. In the center—about 750 Chinese Reds on the northern end of Sniper Ridge attacked Tuesday driving Republic of Korea Second Division troops off their foothold on "The Yoke." The attacking Reds then pushed up to Pinpoint Hill, the highest point on Sniper Ridge.

The South Koreans counterattacked at dawn. In fierce fighting, the ROKs regained all of Pinpoint Hill, then restored their hold on the southern one-fifth of "The Yoke."

Nebraska Dietetic Group Will Begin Meet Wednesday

Registration for the semi-annual convention of the Nebraska Dietetic Association will begin at noon Wednesday at the Cornhusker Hotel.

Dr. Doretta Schlapoff, chairman of the Department of Home Economics at the University of Nebraska and president of the Association, will preside at the noon luncheon. Later Dr. Richard Bourne, associate professor of labor relations at the University, will discuss employment and personnel problems.

Other afternoon speakers include: Mrs. Margaret Cowden Bernard, head of the Dietary Department of Denver General Hospital and member of the Council of the House of Delegates of the American Dietetic Association, who will discuss "Association Affairs"; and Agnes Richling of Doctors' Hospital in Omaha, who will report on the national convention held last week in Minneapolis to which she was a state delegate.

A business meeting and executive board meeting also will be held and a coffee hour in the afternoon will conclude the program.

Other state officers are: Marian Keller, Omaha, president-elect; Betty J. Yapp, Hastings, secretary; and Ruth Johnson, Lincoln, treasurer.

MCCARTHY DISPLAYS DOCUMENT—Sen. Joseph McCarthy (R-Wis.) displays a document during his nationwide television broadcast in which he made a slashing attack on Gov. Adlai Stevenson Monday night. McCarthy's much-heralded "Stevenson story" which he describes as a "coldly documented background of this man who wants to be President," was delivered in Chicago before 1,150 persons at a $50-a-plate dinner. (AP Wirephoto Monday Night.)

orously when he suggested that Eisenhower was "playing politics with the Korean War."

"He knows that we cannot retreat from Korea or involve ourselves in a large-scale war in Asia without jeopardizing our security."

Stevenson told a howling, cheering crowd estimated at 5,000 packed into the railroad station at New Haven, Conn., that Republicans had resorted to "abuse and vilification" in the campaign. Asserting that the only Republican refrain was "It's time for a change," the Democratic nominee said:

"I don't think I have to talk to the American people in words of one syllable or in generalities—like some generals."

Platform Collapses
The whistle-stop campaign, meanwhile suffered its first accident when a hastily erected speakers platform next to the New London, Conn., railroad station collapsed. Stevenson was not on the stand at the time. Some 20 and 30 Democratic officials were shaken up but not injured.

Stevenson concentrated on the campaign's two biggest issues—Communism and the Korean War.

The governor told 3,000 persons in Putnam, Conn., the Republicans "look for the enemy under the bed" when the "enemy is all over the world."

He added: "We reject the party of fear, and if we remain loyal to the party of faith our tomorrows may be better."

flatly with whom he would refuse to co-operate."

James Weschler, identified by McCarthy as another Stevenson "ghost writer," was labeled by the senator as having been a member, together with his wife, of the "Young Communist League."

McCarthy also listed Archibald Macleish, former librarian of Congress, as a Stevenson aid who "has been affiliated with a vast number of Communist fronts."

The senator said his investigators found more than 200,000 documents—"hidden files of the Communist-controlled Institute of Pacific Relations"—in a dilapidated Massachusetts barn.

He continued: "These documents (including letters, copies of telegrams, vouchers, and showing cash which McCarthy said was received from Moscow, were later subpoenaed by the McCarthy committee and demonstrated how the Communists in the IPR were successfully shaping the policies of our State department."

"Stevenson thought so highly of his membership in the IPR that he listed it in his record in Who's Who."

Douglas Is Injured By Accidental Shot

YORK, Neb. (AP)—William H. Douglas, 61, of Crete was critically wounded in a pheasant hunting accident north of Exeter Sunday.

Sheriff Lewis Ekart said Douglas and his wife were returning to their car after bagging a pheasant, Douglas walking ahead of his wife and unloading his automatic shotgun. Mrs. Douglas stumbled and the jar discharged the .410 gauge shotgun she was carrying.

Spending By GOP Tops $1 Million

Demo Costs $943,265;
$306,383 Still Owed

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Republican National Committee Monday reported its spending since Sept. 1, opening date of the presidential campaign. Their outgo: Republicans $1,370,357; Democrats $943,265.

The Democrats also reported unpaid obligations amounting to $306,383.

The accountings were filed with the clerk of the House, as required by law, and covered their activities up to Oct. 22.

The Republicans reported total contributions of $1,265,827 between Sept. 1 and Oct. 22. For the entire year to date they listed receipts of $2,464,174 and expenses of $2,086,921. The GOP entered the Sept. 1-Oct. 22 period with a $509,709 balance.

The Democrats reported they took in $889,315 during the seven weeks. They started the period with a $183,957 balance.

C. J. Zimmerman Named Speaker For Life Underwriters

Charles J. Zimmerman of Hartford, Conn., managing director of the Life Insurance Agency Management Association, will address the October meeting of the Lincoln Association of Life Underwriters, Friday noon at the Hotel Lincoln.

Zimmerman is also principal speaker Friday and Saturday at the University of Nebraska's "Institute of Insurance."

Named by Forbes Magazine as one of "America's Outstanding Salesmen," Zimmerman was selected by the U. S. Junior Chamber of Commerce as one of "America's Outstanding Young Men" in 1940, and the trade publication, The Insurance Field, called him "The Insurance Man of the Year" in 1942.

Youngest president ever elected by the National Association of Life Underwriters in 1939, Zimmerman has continued as a leader in the educational and institutional field of life insurance.

Four Persons Hurt In Derailment Of Milwaukee Arrow

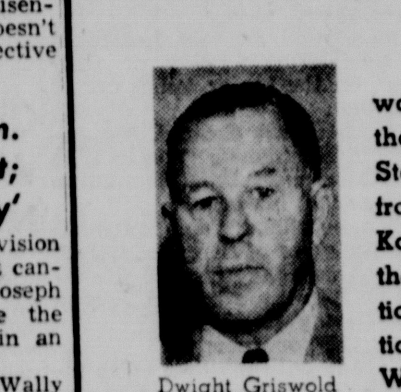

SIoux CITY, Ia. (AP)—Four persons were injured Monday when the Milwaukee Arrow was sideswiped by a switch engine and derailed.

The accident to the Milwaukee passenger train occurred at nearly North Sioux City, S.D. The derailed train consisted of six passenger cars and a diesel locomotive. All derailed cars remained upright and there was no fire.

The injured all were reported in good condition at a Sioux City hospital.

A LETTER to WAYNE Somewhere in Korea . . .

Dwight Griswold

"DEAR WAYNE: You are surely in a mess in Korea. Three years ago Dean Acheson told the world that we had no interest in Korea. Then a few months later Truman ordered back American troops. American boys have been drafted, and lost by the tens of thousands. We have wasted billions of dollars in a lunatic war. Now we are told by the Democratic leaders that we must continue what is being done today.

We should not one day declare a country outside of our line of defense, and the next reverse that decision. We stopped at the 38th Parallel; we have held phony peace conferences for a year; you boys have marched up Heartbreak Ridge, and then down. While all the time the enemy built up their power!

During this time, an artificial, wartime prosperity has been maintained so we have "never had it so good." But you tell me that you "never had it so bad." Our present prosperity is based on Korea, and there is no assurance that it will continue. But while this so-called prosperity is artificial, there is nothing artificial about those little white crosses in Korea. We must either train Korean troops to do the fighting, or get out."

This was the end of Dwight Griswold's letter to Wayne. But in it he had summarized his convictions as Republican candidate—to complete the term of the late Senator Wherry.

Five years ago in Europe Dwight Griswold saw the results of modern war. He walked through the masses of rubble which once were German cities. One thing he learned and learned well. Civilization cannot survive another great war! No nation can win.

Mr. Griswold says with conviction that war with Russia is not inevitable. He believes that a man of the stature of General Eisenhower—with worldwide prestige and background—can point out to Stalin the military facts of life. He does NOT believe that Governor Stevenson is strong enough to meet Stalin on his own terms.

Vote for Dwight Griswold, a man with the conviction of PEACE!

Chicago Minister Will Speak Here

The Rev. Edwin T. Buehrer, minister of the Third Unitarian Church in Chicago, will be the guest speaker at the Lincoln Unitarian Church next Sunday.

Rev. Buehrer will speak on the three most important virtues of individuals.

Minister of the Third Unitarian Church since 1941, Rev. Buehrer is a member of the board of directors of the American Unitarian Association.

He also is a former director of the Western Unitarian Conference, a former editor of the Journal of Liberal Religion, a monthly publication for Unitarian and Universalist ministers, and has served on the faculty of the Lake Geneva Summer Assembly, a yearly institute held by the Unitarian Church at Lake Geneva, Wis.

A reception and coffee hour honoring Rev. Buehrer will be held following the services.

Youth Arrested In Bludgeon Slaying Of Sioux City Man

SIoux CITY (AP)—Police Chief Harry Gibbons said a 17-year-old youth arrested in Kansas in connection with the bludgeon slaying of Reuben M. Baker, 49, filling station operator, would be returned here at once.

Gibbons identified the youth as Conrad Robert Teboe. He said Teboe was arrested at Lawrence, Kan., at the request of Sioux City police.

Gibbons said Police Chief John Ingalls of Lawrence quoted Teboe as saying he had "hit a man with a brick at Sioux City in a fight."

Baker died in a Sioux City hospital Sunday about eight hours after he was severely beaten on the head.

Gibbons said he was informed from Lawrence that Teboe admitted striking Baker after the filling station owner became angry when Teboe went to the station to use the telephone.

Atkinson Woman Is Hurt In Collision

Mrs. Effie J. Porter, 71, of Atkinson, suffered a crushed chest and internal injuries early Monday morning when the car in which she was riding collided with a car driven by Mrs. Lavawn B. Burden, 29, of 331 South 45th.

Mrs. Porter was reported in fair condition at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

The Porter car, driven by Mrs. Porter's husband, Ernest K., collided with the Burden automobile when the Porter car attempted a left turn at the corner of 11th and O Sts., according to the accident report. City ordinance prohibits a left turn at this corner.

Flames Damage Garage

A garage at the R. J. Settell residence, 2410 So. 22nd, was damaged Monday afternoon when a fire started between the garage doors, apparently by a cigarette. The fire extended to the roof of the garage before Lincoln firemen extinguished the flames. Damage was restricted to the garage doors.

Korea Debate Is Postponed By Vishinsky

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky held up debate in the U. N. Political Committee on the whole Korean question Monday by sending word he was not ready to speak. He said he might be ready Wednesday to answer the speech of Secretary of State Dean Acheson laying the Korean conflict at Moscow's door.

The Political Committee met with all of top delegates there except Vishinsky. His No. 1 man, Andrei A. Gromyko, said the Soviet delegate did not want to speak before Wednesday.

Meanwhile, the United States denied reports published here and in Britain to the effect that secret talks on the Korean questions are going on, or are being arranged, directly or indirectly between the U. S. and the Soviet bloc representatives. The U. S. simply said there is "no basis in fact" for any of those "rumors."

Korean Mortality Rate 2.3 Per Cent Below Second War

BOSTON (AP)—The Navy's surgeon general said Monday that the mortality rate of men wounded in the Korean War has been reduced to 2.3 per cent from the death rate of 4.5 per cent in the Second World War.

Speaking at the second annual medical military symposium at the Chelsea Naval Hospital, Rear Adm. Lamont Pugh said 84 per cent of all servicemen wounded in action in Korea eventually returned to duty.

He credited the low mortality rate to the use of antibiotics, of whole blood and to the improved helicopter evacuation system.

Warden Hann Not Hurt In Accident

Warden Herbert H. Hann of the state penitentiary narrowly escaped injury Monday night when the automobile he was driving hit a telephone pole just south of 10th and South and rolled over one and a quarter times.

Hann, who was returning from private business in Grand Island, was traveling south when, blinded by headlights from oncoming traffic, he swerved to the left side of the road to smack the pole. When he hit the telephone pole, Hann recalled, "That was the last thing I remember."

The warden, however, remained conscious and climbed out of his overturned automobile by himself. Property damage was estimated by police at $100. Hann said "considerable damage" was done to his vehicle.

Poised Shovel Stops Youths In Stolen Car

A Safety Patrolman's pursuit of two youths in a stolen automobile owned by Lincolnite Harold Bilbo, 5242 Madison, which was taken here Oct. 18 at 4243 No. 57th, ended Monday at the point of a workman's shovel.

As a result, Harold McGheen, 19, of Fremont will be returned to Lincoln possibly Tuesday, according to Capt. Orren Graves of the Lincoln police, from the Douglas County Jail.

The other youth, Albert Callaway, 20, also of Fremont, will be kept at Omaha to face a traffic charge, Graves said.

Patrol Lt. Bob Emery told the Associated Press he spotted the pair in a speeding car on Dodge Street at the outskirts of Omaha. He caught up with the car twice, but it sped away both times, the second time the driver cutting in on the patrol car in an attempt to ram it before turning off onto a residential street.

Emery said when he pursued the car, he approached a section of street where county road crews were pouring concrete, he found an ally.

Harry Downey, who was directing traffic through the section under repair, stepped in front of the car, shovel poised, and stopped its progress.

Coal Strike Ends As Lewis Orders Workers Back

Production Resumption 'Is Best'

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The week-long coal strike ended Monday with John L. Lewis firing "get-to-work" telegrams to aides throughout the nation's soft coal fields.

The president of the striking United Mine Workers told his 350,000 diggers they should resume production in the best interests of the public and themselves pending a final decision on their pay increase.

The nation's coal production was throttled just a week ago after the Wage Stabilization Board ruled that 40 cents should be lopped off the $1.90 a day pay boost which Lewis recently negotiated with the industry.

HST Stepped In

Miners, whose pay was cut by the WSB action from the expected $18.20 for a basic minimum day to $17.85 promptly refused to work. They took the stand the government had nullified their contract. The miners have a long "no contract no work" tradition.

Lewis sided with his men and said they wouldn't work unless they got the full $1.90. But over the week-end President Truman summoned Lewis and Harry M. Moses, chief industry negotiator, to the White House and made a personal appeal for an end to the strike.

Lewis then sent his district directors telegrams which said in part:

'Should Be Operating'

"It will require a reasonable time for review of attendant facts and the reaching of a decision."

"It is my opinion that our industry should be operating during that period and that the best interests of the mine workers and the public will be best served."

"I am therefore requesting an immediate resumption of operations at all mines in all districts and I am urging each member of our union to return to work at once."

"Please notify all local unions and all members of this message and utilize the services of all officers and field representatives in notifying the membership and requesting their fullest co-operation."

There is no official indication of how the pay issue will be resolved finally. The industry and the union jointly appealed the wage board's decision that the full pay boost would jeopardize the nation's anti-inflation fight.

Decision Time Unknown

They appealed to Economic Stabilizer Roger Putnam, who has the power to overrule the WSB.

In Washington, Lewis aids indicated a decision is expected in a day or two. But Putnam indicated it would take more than a week.

In the coal fields, UMW district officials and miners are confident they'll get a favorable decision.

Some mines expected to resume operations Monday night. But in many mining communities, local union leaders say they can't resume work until they go through the formality of taking a vote at local UMW meetings.

Epworth Methodist To Mark 30th Anniversary

A Homecoming program to recognize increased membership, church services, activities and improvements will be held by Epworth Methodist Church Nov. 23 on its 30th anniversary.

The program will continue through the day with a guest speaker during worship services, said Ezra Feldman, Homecoming chairman. Afternoon services will be led by Bishop Bascom Watts, Bishop of Nebraska Methodist churches.

A songfest will be led by Robert Palmer.

Committees are:

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Conrad, invitations

Mrs. John Field, printing

Mrs. Eva Kemble, receiving committee

Mrs. Lee Mullins, dinner

Roy Powers, finance

Jacob Reimers, transportation

Mrs. Robert E. Filling, secretary

Mrs. Roy A. Sheaff and Jeanne Shankland, publicity.

Raking Of Leaves Into Gutter Ruled Out By Councilmen

The City Council has approved the recommendation of Street Superintendent Lynn Myers that no one be allowed to rake leaves from the parkway between the curb and sidewalk into the street gutters.

Last year when the practice was permitted, Myers said, people raked their entire yards into the gutters and put garden plants and vines along with other trash and rubbish into the gutters for the Street Department to haul away.

"We are not in the garbage business," he reminded.

The Department this year will haul away those leaves which normally fall or blow into the gutters.

To do the job done last year, said Myers would cost $500 a day. More equipment would have to be bought or rented, he said.

City Councilman Pat Ash was not satisfied with the majority Council opinion. He told the Council that consideration should be given now to providing money in next year's budget to assure the leaf removal program and more tree trimming.

Two Municipal Court Appeals Are Dismissed

What Of The Issues? No. 4 Of A Series

By J. E. LAWRENCE

Flames swept hundreds of square miles of tinder-dry woodlands in 15 states Sunday, the headlines announced. . . . Nature was playing no favorites. . . . In Texas, New Mexico and Oklahoma, the most acute drought conditions continued. . . . In Kansas and Nebraska, hundreds of thousands of acres of wheat-producing land remained unplanted. . . . Fields which had been seeded and had germinated were in great peril with winter's icy breath yet ahead. . . . Some mountain areas, particularly on the eastern slopes of the Rockies, had been closed to hunters because of the threat of forest fires.

The Hand that rules the elements is not partisan. It bestows its smiles and frowns without regard to party labels. The rains fall upon Republican soil no less and no more than upon Democratic earth and when drought strikes—it is striking now on a disturbingly wide front—the earth cries for moisture, whichever political party may be in power. There is one fact in the issue nearest to the heart of the millions who call themselves farmers—the people who live upon the soil—which is not open to argument. The farm program which restored American agriculture is rooted deeply in Democratic administrations. No one can deny it. The only farm program which ever really brought benefits of an acceptable, lasting character to the American farm home originated with the late Franklin D. Roosevelt and has been continued substantially since the early 'thirties.

It was born in an era similar to that which may be in the offing. The foundations of the present farm program came in a period of depression followed by the greatest drought this country ever experienced. We are likely to forget those years in the forgetfulness which a long decade of prosperity breeds. We are likely to overlook that it was the farm program, not the production on the farm, that tided many hundreds of thousands of farm families through the years, thanks to parity payments and to the soil conservation program. When we are sick, invariably we are humble and grateful—when we are well, we like to talk about ourselves as "self-made men" in the spirit of rugged individualism.

Now, the fact is that the Democrats did not invent agriculture—it existed long before the Democrats. All that the Democrats did was to develop a farm program which the Republicans in the Harding-Coolidge-Hoover era could have enacted but rejected largely through the opposition of powerful reactionary leaders in the Republican party. The Republicans had their chance just ahead of the Democrats and muffed the ball. The Democrats had their chance and adopted the program which has been responsible for the revival of rural America.

In addition to the parity program to insure the farmer a fair, just share of the national income, that farm program made possible generous credit, credit at low interest rates to enable the farmer to handle his crops most advantageously, a storage-and-loan program, encouragement to the co-operative movement among the farmers, rural electrification, crop insurance, and other sound support for a healthy agriculture. The party records on these matters are not open to argument. They are reflected in the roll call year after year. The only Republican Congress, the 80th Congress, controlled by the Republicans both in the House and Senate, lost no time in knocking out crop insurance, and despite the wide publicity given to what is called "the Truman hoax" on the issue of storage facilities for grain, that 80th Congress did knock out the storage program when it prohibited the Commodity Credit Corporation from purchasing or leasing new sites for storage. Constantly the Republican members of Congress have opposed appropriations to carry out the farm program. The majority of the Republicans constituting a minority in all but the 80th Congress have been on record time and again in opposition to the farm program. A few Republicans have supported it.

The issue which the voter faces out on the farm is simply one as to whether the time has arrived to experiment with this farm program. It is an experiment in every sense of the word because the Republican presidential candidate says one thing, the party platform says still a second, and the voting record in Congress says a third. The issue facing the farmers is the more confusing because of the uncertainties created by an unprecedented fall drought. There is a time for experiment and a time to forego experiment. The Democratic party record on the farm program is known. The Republican party record is not, unless the farmer accepts the party's attitude under the last Republican President or the party's attitude reflected by its members in Congress, and the contradictory statement of its candidate considered in connection with the party's platform. It is the farmer's decision and he may find it a tough one to make.

Cloak Of Martyrdom

The air is filled with cries that these closing days of the national campaign will yield a harvest of bigger if not better "smears." Before this appears in type, Sen. Joe McCarthy of Wisconsin will have provided his version of the Stevenson story, and if it follows the established McCarthy line, it may get "Smear Week" off to a flying start.

The men around Gen. Eisenhower flourish upon picturing their idol as a martyr to disreputable politicians, practicing either smear tactics or crooked politics. That is the technique they employed against the Taft forces at the Republican National Convention in Chicago, and it paid off handsomely. The Taft people were stealing the Texas delegation, it was charged. The Taft people were operating a steamroller. There was a steamroller in action, make no mistake

The Real Scholar

The retiring president of the Rockefeller Foundation, Chester I. Barnard, in his farewell report the other day excellently defined the requirements of the scholar and added a thought on the problem of when a man ceases to be a scholar.

First he makes the point that the scholar, as a member "in the fellowship of research," has made a commitment to search for truth, wherever it may lead.

"In exchange for his dedication," Dr. Barnard writes, "society grants him certain immunities." These immunities are included in what we have termed academic freedom. "When he becomes a partisan in his search," Dr. Barnard continues,

Some Changes Made

There are some interesting differences between the bill providing for unemployment compensation for veterans of the Korean War and the old bill established for World War II veterans. The "52-20 Club" has been replaced by the "26-26 Club."

This means that the provision allowing $20 a week compensation for unemployed World War II veterans over a period of 52 weeks has been replaced by a $26 a week payment for a maximum of 26 weeks to Korean veterans out of a job. There are some other alterations worthy of note; for one thing, federal payments under the new law supplement state payments instead of constituting a separate payment. Also, sickness will halt payments under the new legislation, and a waiting period of 30 days for each $100 of mustering out pay received is now in the law.

Conditions are much different now from those which faced the millions of servicemen discharged in 1945. Very few men returning to civilian life after service during the period of the Korean War should find need for unemployment compensation.

Same Here And There

The fact that things are the same the world over is shown by a story reported from Italy. The account says that a successful and influential Italian businessman lay dying, and summoned his best friend to his bedside. The friend promised the businessman he would cremate the dying man's mortal remains.

"And what would you want me to do with ashes?" he requested respectfully.

"The ashes?" the dying man is reported to have answered. "You will place them in an envelope addressed to the collector of internal revenue, and tell him that 'now he has everything.'"

Testimony Challenges McCarthy's Veracity

WASHINGTON — Little was published about it nationally but, while Sen. McCarthy has been scattering guilt-by-association charges around the country, some legal depositions have been taken in Wheeling, W. Va., regarding the all-important question of whether Sen. McCarthy tells the truth.

McCarthy's first charge of Communism in the State Department, which so startled the nation, was made at Wheeling, W. Va., Feb. 9, 1950, when he said 205 Communists were in that vital agency which conducts our foreign affairs. Since then, and due perhaps to the fact that no Communists have been found in the State Department, McCarthy has been trying to deny that he ever used the figure "205." He has claimed he was misquoted, misunderstood, unfairly dealt with.

However, here is the testimony of witnesses at Wheeling, W. Va., who saw McCarthy on that day and heard him speak.

Witness No. 1—News Editor James Whitaker of Station WVA identified a copy of the script McCarthy used on Feb. 9, 1950; testified that he was present when McCarthy spoke; said he used the script to check the speech, while making a tape recording; that both the tape and the script contained the following statement by McCarthy:

"While I cannot take the time to name all the men in the State Department who have been named as active members of the Communist party and members of a spy ring, I have here in my hand a list of 205—a list of names that were made known to the secretary of state as being members of the Communist party and who nevertheless are still working and shaping policy in the State Department."

Witness No. 2—WVVA Program Director Paul A. Myers testified that he read McCarthy's script on the afternoon of Feb. 9 and it contained the above language. On Feb. 10 he read an account of the speech in the Wheeling Intelligence, quoting this language. Later that morning he got the tape recording and played it back to make sure if this language had been used. It had been.

Witness No. 3—Frank Desmond, reporter for the Wheeling Intelligence, testified that he wrote the news story appearing Feb. 10 concerning McCarthy's speech which contained the above language regarding 205 Communists. He received copy of the script from McCarthy en route from airport, and it contained this statement.

Witness No. 4—WVVA Assistant Manager Paul J. Miller testified that he examined the McCarthy script on the afternoon of Feb. 9 and heard the figure 205 used in listening to the broadcast later that night. He also identified a photograph of the script which contained the language.

In contrast, McCarthy swore on April 24, 1950, before a Senate committee that he had not used this language. He stated in a Senate speech Feb. 20 not only that he hadn't used this language but that he hadn't used a written speech. (Witness Whitaker testified under oath he had seen McCarthy reading from a written speech, while four witnesses identified copies of McCarthy's script.)

On Sept. 7, 1951, McCarthy, interviewed by the U.S. News and World Report, said that at Wheeling he had referred to a 1946 letter from Secretary of State James Byrnes to Congressman Sabath. But all four witnesses stated that at Wheeling he said no such thing.

Thus McCarthy has put himself in the position of giving at least three different versions of what he said at Wheeling in order to alibi the fact that actually there were not 205 Communists in the State Department; and that, despite prolonged investigation since his speech, not one Communist has been discovered by the Loyalty Board.

NOTE—The State Department loyalty check, which began about three years before McCarthy's first charges, most of the time has been under a Republican from New Hampshire, Brig. Gen. Conrad E. Enow, appointed to the post on the recommendation of the Senate Republican leader, Sen. Styles Bridges of New Hampshire.

COAL FLARE-UP

Pent-up feelings over a wage increase for striking coal miners almost exploded into fistfights between two prominent members of the Wage Stabilization Board—Elmer E. Walker, an AFL member, and Robert C. Bassett, a Chicago attorney serving as an industry member.

The altercation occurred at a closed-door session shortly before the WSB approved a compromise mine pay boost of $1.50 a day instead of the $1.90 raise agreed to by John L. Lewis and the mine operators.

Labor members, led by Walker, vigorously opposed the compromise, but were outvoted by industry and public members.

Industry members, led by Bassett, contended that Walker was making irresponsible statements and that he was trying to force a vote without sufficient discussion. The AFL official replied that he was acting within "sound parliamentary procedure" and added:

"Every time the working man asks for a wage increase to meet higher living costs, he is accused of encouraging inflation and Socialism. But the same people who make this charge say nothing about inflation and Socialism when business gets government handouts through rapid amortization and other tax benefits."

"It seems to me that you are taking a cavalier attitude toward a very serious problem—that of maintaining a stabilized economy," snapped Bassett.

"I am not any more carefree about this than you are," shot back Walker. "I'll give you an opportunity to repeat your accusation outside after this meeting is over."

Appraisal Of Obstacles In Event Of Ike Victory

WASHINGTON—This campaign is going to end. Sometimes it seemed as though it would go on forever until, like the Kilkenny cats, we clawed ourselves into final and complete destruction. But if we are fortunate, we shall narrowly avert catastrophe.

Then one of the two men who has gone through the fearful ordeal of the campaign must face an even greater trial. The decisions to be taken in the months and years immediately ahead are at least as grave and as troubled as those of the past 12 years. Some of them will scarcely wait until January and the inauguration of a new President, so pressing is the need for continuity in the difficult and dangerous effort to sustain the free world and push back Communism.

Who can best govern the country and carry on this effort? That is the question in the minds of millions of Americans troubled and uncertain in the continuing barrage of billingsgate from so many quarters.

Either man will find the going fearfully rough. And one reason is because of some of the vicious things said in the past two months. The division, the fear, the suspicion, the doubt have all been accentuated. This and all following column will be an effort at appraisal of Gen. Eisenhower and Gov. Stevenson confronted by the perilous, demanding perils of a moment of world crisis and upheaval.

In the opinion of this observer, the obstacles in Eisenhower's way would be greater than those in Stevenson's way. That is because the split in the Republican party is deeper and wider than the division in the Democratic party. This is on the assumption that Eisenhower as President would undertake to carry out the foreign and defense policy back of NATO and the whole far-flung resistance to the Communist conspiracy. He could, of course, make peace with the loudest and most aggressive wing of his party by abandoning the program.

The heart of the matter is the military budget. Before he sends his budget for the fiscal year 1954 to the Congress, President Eisenhower must have some reason to believe that it will not be cut to ribbons at the instigation of irresponsibles in his own party. To toss it in without the most careful preliminary preparation will be to court disaster.

This will be Eisenhower's first test. How he meets it may well determine whether he will be able to maintain even in the honeymoon phase some direction of and control over the Ship of State.

If he tries to rely solely on his own party he will certainly fail. He must attempt to form in the Senate an alliance of the center, combining such men of his own party as Senators Saltonstall, Knowland, Ives (if he is re-elected), Hendrickson, Mrs. Smith of Maine, Wiley, Carlson and Tobey with southern Democrats who have on the whole supported the foreign policy of the past five years.

One can conceive of Eisenhower in, say, late December asking such Democrats as Senators Byrd, Russell, Johnson of Texas, Smathers, and possibly a half dozen others to meet with him. He would say to them frankly that his fate was in their hands, that without their co-operation he would be unable to carry through any sort of constructive program. And since he would be speaking nothing less than the plain truth to responsible men, he would have a good chance of enlisting their support.

Eisenhower in the White House would need something more. The direction of such a conservative alliance for Eisenhower's own ends would call for a man of dedicated loyalty and great skill. Such a leader might be Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. if he survives in Massachusetts. Lodge has demonstrated his dedication to Eisenhower personally and to the NATO policy.

But the real question concerns the man who was known for the first half of this year as "Mr. Republican"—Sen. Robert A. Taft. If Taft opposes an Eisenhower program, then the going will be rough indeed. All the skill of someone like Lodge would be called for plus the determination, the understanding and the subtlety of a President in the White House. Eisenhower has not shown those qualities in the campaign. His defenders argue that it was impossible to expect him to do that in the midst of trying to hold the two factions together to win an election.

As the old saying has it, you pay your money and you take your choice. Except that this time the stakes are higher and the penalties for failure so terrifying.

Digger Is A Dog That Sits Up—And Laughs

By JEFF WITHROW
Star Staff Writer

A dog that seems to talk to his master is almost as common among canine owners as the one-that-got-away among fishermen. But Jack V. Kittrell, 2840 No. 49th, is first in line with a dog that laughs.

Digger, an 8-month-old Iris Setter, was first seen laughing while playing with the neighborhood children in the back yard. It's no audible guffaw, the laugh, Mrs. Kittrell said Digger merely sits down, drops on corner of his mouth, raises his eyebrows and with that look implies "Heh."

The strange behavior has become a habit with the dog now according to Mr. and Mrs. Kittrell. When Digger is annoyed with the playing tactics of 3 year-old Connie Kittrell, he halts the child by sitting on her. While Connie tries to escape Digger laughs.

And for an 8-month-old dog Digger is near perfect as a hunter. "Digger works like a demon," said Kittrell. On a recent pheasant hunting trip, the dog worked through dense fields all day for six men. "He'll keep going as long as do," Kittrell added, "and never lie down on the job."

Kittrell told of a recent hunting trip north of town where Digger refused to give up until the pheasant limit was reached. On the way home, the dog fell asleep sitting in the front seat of the car with his head on Kittrell's shoulder.

"We all love him," said Connie. "And that goes for the neighborhood children," Mrs. Kittrell added. Digger, according to Mrs. Kittrell, enjoys having the smaller children ride him and wrestle with him.

The copper-colored Setter plays with the children and teases them by tugging on their mittens. But Digger, Mrs. Kittrell declared, wouldn't hurt one of the youngsters for anything.

In fact the dog was miserable for a few days recently while Connie received hospital treatment for a head injury she received in a tumble over Digger.

There was no laughing from Digger. Kittrell explained that the dog just sat around and whined and refused to play until Connie returned.

CONNIE KITRELL AND DIGGER
... no audible guffaw—just a "Heh" ...

Tribute To A Friend

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: One of the editor's recent columns gave me a glimpse through the portals of the past. It was the tribute to a mutual friend who was not named. There was no doubt but that you were writing about Carlisle Logan Jones.

I knew him and followed him for years. I grieved at his passing just as the editor did, but I was pleased that time was taken to write of him.

New Building

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: I was glad to see the Nebraska State Historical building so near completion. Its beauty adds greatly to our city; therefore these lines of dedication:

Block upon block it rose into the sky
A monument that represents the brave
Each block of stone an honored man
Who dared
To challenge a wilderness and found
A mighty state wealthy in resources.

But do not speak of industry to me,
Nor cry of oil that flows beneath the sod
Nor mention agricultural wealth
Nor buildings, nor lakes, nor fields about
Speak to me of men . . .

Speak of the integrity of the men
Who administer a state's resources.
They are the foundation of the greatness
Of the state and also of a nation.
Speak to me of men who know the meaning
Of the words, "honor" and "duty."

Raise monuments of stone over higher
Generation upon generation.
Raise them ever upward, stronger, taller.
To represent deeply earnest people
Realizing the value of men.

A Difference Whose Ox

Omaha, Neb.
To the editor of The Lincoln Star: When I was a lad in school, there was a story in one of the old readers about "It makes a difference whose ox is gored," and the same thing seems to apply to the tactics of the Republican vice presidential candidate Richard Nixon. When his fund was not satisfactorily explained, it was, in his words, a smear and people were trying to ruin him, but when he goes about the country with a wide brush lambasting everyone and everything Democratic, it is not a smear.

Appraisal Board Planned For City Property Sale

Mayor Will Pick Group To Set Price

Mayor Victor E. Anderson will appoint an appraisal board to fix a price on land acquired by private parties through the vacation of streets and alleys.

Anderson made the suggestion himself and received the approval of the rest of the City Council. The board will also see to it that public property so taken over for private purposes is placed back on the tax rolls.

The sale of such property has long been recommended by the City Planning Commission. That group, however, recommended the property to be sold at public auction—an idea deemed impractical by the Council.

The appraisal board thought grew out of an ordinance introduced to the Council for the vacation of Benton from 47th to Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railroad right-of-way. Other ordinances introduced:

Vacation of the alley between 51st and 52nd from Holdrege to Aylesworth.

Paving of Hill Drive, Valley Road to 47th and 48th, Hill to 47th.

Graveling of Baldwin, 37th to 41st.

Sewer in Gladstone, 56th to 58th.

Change in grades of certain streets in Country Club Terrace running east of 20th from Calvert to Pioneers.

The Council suspended the rules and gave three readings to an ordinance granting local business zoning at 540 So. 11th as requested by Standard Oil. Other third reading ordinances approved:

Vacation of the north-south alley from 28th to 29th between Pear and Vine.

Vacation of the alley from X and Y between 17th and 18th.

Paving of 54th from Walker to Huntington.

Paving of Sherman from 44th to 46th.

IMPERIAL POTENTATE VISITS LINCOLN SHRINERS—Harvey Beffa of St. Louis, Mo., Imperial Potentate of the Shrine (left) made an official visit Monday to Lincoln. He was welcomed by his hosts, Dr. Clayton Andrews of Lincoln, Second Ceremonial Master of the Imperial Council (center), and Illustrious Potentate W. W. Putney of Lincoln's Sesostris Temple. ## Shrine Head Beffa Stresses Hospital Work In Visit Here

A Shriner, who is credited with leading a surge of financial and emotional interest among his fellow members in the Shrine's Hospital for Crippled Children, made an official visit Monday to Lincoln as the Imperial Potentate of 700,000 Shriners in North America.

He is Harvey Beffa of St. Louis, Mo., who in 1942 volunteered for the assignment of increasing "life memberships" in what is described as the "world's greatest philanthropy."

As a national director of Shrine hospitals from 1942 until 1949, Beffa increased the life membership fund total from $600,000 to $10,000,000, a step toward making the hospital program solvent and Shrinedom hospital-conscious.

17 Hospitals
The Imperial Potentate said Shrine hospitals have cared for more than a quarter-million underprivileged, crippled children since 1922.

There are presently 17 hospitals, including two in Canada, one in Honolulu, Hawaii, and one in Mexico City, which care for crippled children without "one cent cost to the parents or guardian" and "without regard for race, color or creed."

Neither can the "child of a millionaire be admitted to a Shrine hospital, because no child is admitted for whose care "one cent could be contributed."

The Shrine's 17 hospitals, valued at $12,000,000, are maintained by an endowment fund totalling more than $70,000,000, Beffa said. "Our objective is a $180,000,000 fund, which would perpetuate the work."

Investment In Future
Potentate Beffa said $3½ million a year spent in the program is regarded as "an investment in the future of men and women in America."

Beffa, himself, modestly admitted he "felt very close to the program" because in 1932 both his arms and legs were stricken with infantile paralysis.

He was completely helpless for more than two years, but today the only visible evidence is a steel brace on his left leg and a cane. The Shrine has not been his

Omaha Vote Total In Nov. 4 Election May Set Record

Registration Mark Rises To 140,000

By the Associated Press

Still unofficial figures on the Omaha voter registration Monday indicated the possibility of 20,000 to 30,000 more votes in the Nov. 4 election than ever have been cast before.

Total registrations last week—extended 12 hours by a court order Saturday—were 9,210 bringing to almost 140,000 the number registered in Omaha.

On the basis of this Frank C. Heinisch, director of the Get-Out-The-Vote campaign in Omaha, made the forecast of 20,000 to 30,000 additional votes.

Previous Record In 1940
The previous record vote in Douglas County was 121,574 ballots in 1940.

County Election Commissioner Herman Kuppinger was not prepared to say whether the rush of registrants to the office, and the fact that nearly 20,000 more voted in last spring's primary "means anything."

He did say, however, that 140,000 ballots have been ordered. "But that doesn't mean a thing," he added.

If Omaha's registration soars as indicated, a record vote in next week's election would appear likely.

In Lincoln, the deadline found 55,479 persons registered and eligible to vote Nov. 4. This was a new high, the old record being 47,489 in the 1952 spring primary election.

Special Drive
At North Platte, registrations totaled 8,773. The city clerk estimated 5,280 were registered in 1948 and about 6,000 in 1950.

Since a special vote-registration drive started in North Platte Sept. 24, 1,947 persons have registered. The last full day on Saturday saw 251 register.

At Scottsbluff, registrations reached 7,104. In 1950, there were 4,794 registered voters, with 3,981 voting. In 1948, registrations totaled 7,154, with 3,535 voting.

Alliance, a newcomer to the vote-registration cities, has registered about 3,700 persons.

Grand Island and Hastings, who have been contesting to see which could increase registrations the most, have both come up with sharp upwings.

35.87% Rise
Hastings has added 3,217 registrants to its rolls since Sept. 1, giving a total of 12,136 registered. This is an increase of 35.87 per cent since Sept. 1.

Grand Island registrations reached 13,809, which was believed to be a record. This was an increase of 3,399 since Sept. 1, or an increase of 32.64 per cent.

Thus, Hastings recorded a greater percentage increase, while Grand Island had the larger numerical increase.

Nebraska City shows a total of 7,786 registrations, a boost of 579 since last July.

Fremont's total hit a new record of 9,721 compared with 6,778 in 1948, or about 96 per cent of those eligible to registration, on the basis of an 1,800 increase in population since 1950. A citywide campaign to get out the vote was staged in Fremont.

Columbus showed a total of 5,473 registered, indicating a record vote there.

Unofficial figures released in Beatrice by a "Get Out The Vote Association" showed about 85 per cent of Beatrice voters now are registered. The total is 6,783, compared to 5,623 as of April 1. Every ward in the city showed an increase of from 29 to 142 voters.

Norfolk has registered 1,210 persons since Sept. 1, giving a total registration of between 6,500 and 7,000.

McCook, also new on the list of cities requiring voters to register, has put 4,104 names on the rolls. The actual voting turnout two years ago was 1,415, and four years ago was 1,583.

Breakdowns on available vote registrations indicate Republicans outnumber Democrats. The figures:

Grand Island: 7,321 Republicans, 6,303 Democrats, 155 Independents.
Lincoln: 32,568 Republicans, 21,252 Democrats, 1,659 Independents.

McCook: Estimated 56 per cent GOP, 44 per cent Democrat.
Norfolk: City Clerk A. O. Hazen reported about 65 per cent are Republican.

Hastings: 6,509 Republicans, 5,485 Democrats, 189 Independents.
Scottsbluff: 3,994 Republicans, 2,964 Democrats, 146 Independents.

Alliance: Estimated about 60 per cent are Republicans.
State law says voters in all cities of more than 7,000 population must register. Fourteen cities require registrations.

'Dr. Douglas Day' Pays Tribute To Atkinson's Longtime Doctor

ATKINSON, Neb. (Lincoln Star Special)—Atkinson residents turned out en masse here Monday in observance of "Dr. Douglas Day."

The celebration was in honor of Dr. Wm. James Douglas, 79-year-old Atkinson physician since 1901, and still active. A parade featuring Dr. Douglas "babies" opened the day's festivities Monday afternoon, climaxed by a banquet in honor of the town's No. 1 citizen at night. Open house was held throughout the day at the office of Dr. Douglas.

The parade terminated at the doctor's office, where a brief ceremony was held under the direction of Charles E. Chace, president of the Atkinson Chamber of Commerce, which sponsored the day's event. The Atkinson High School band and American Legion color guard participated in the parade.

A capacity crowd attended the banquet honoring the doctor and held in the Knights of Columbus hall. Greetings were extended by Chamber President Chace, Mayor Francis D. Lee and J. R. Castner, American Legion commander here.

'Douglas Babies' Speak
Several "Douglas babies" were among speakers on the banquet program. Also speaking briefly was Elmer Slaymaker of Atkinson, father of the youngest "Douglas baby," 2-month-old Velda Luree Slaymaker. Mrs. Blanche Spahn Pease, an Atkinson farm wife and a "Douglas baby," and C. E. Spence, former Atkinson Chamber head and another "Douglas baby," were among the speakers.

One of Dr. Douglas' oldest patients, James Nightengale, member of a pioneer Atkinson family, delivered a brief message.

Postmaster Arthur G. Miller gave the main address of the evening.

Active Civic Leader
Dr. Douglas received an especially engraved button from the Atkinson Chamber in recognition of his long service to the community.

In addition to his medical service to Atkinson residents, Dr. Douglas has taken an active part in the civic and political life of his town. For 26 years he served Atkinson as mayor. Former chairman of the Holt County Red Cross, he is also a member of the American Legion and Knights of Columbus. He received his medical degree from the University of Nebraska Medical College in 1900.

His daughter, Mrs. David Adler of Winnetka, Ill., was in attendance at the festivities.

On each of the four questions asked the legislative candidates, the decisive majority favored an expanded road program.

Here's how the candidates responded to the four questions:
1. Are you in favor of a highway commission? Yes—33; No—14; Uncommitted—seven.
2. Do you believe there is urgent need for additional revenue for construction, repair and maintenance of roads and highways in all categories in the state highway system? Yes—45; No—one; uncommitted—eight.

3. If elected to the Nebraska Senate will you early in the session be for and give your active support to legislation for immediate and early additional revenue for accelerated road construction in 1953? Yes—41; No—one; uncommitted—12.

4. If elected to the Nebraska Senate will you be for and give your active support to legislation for addition of an adequately financed long range highway building program? Yes—44; No—one; uncommitted—nine.

Names Not Disclosed
Conrad said that since the AN-AR-HA is a non-political organization it would not disclose the names of the candidates or how they voted.

AN-AR-HA is on record in favor of a one-cent gasoline tax increase; a state highway commission; and increased motor vehicle registration fees, essentially the same legislative program recommended by a special highway committee of the Legislative Council.

Figures on the survey were compiled at a directors' meeting held in Broken Bow. Besides Conrad, those in attendance were:

John Duncan, Broken Bow, secretary and representative of the Highway 2 Association; Mel Ayres, Broken Bow, Highway 2; Dr. Eric De Fion Chadrin, past president and representative of the Highway 20 Association; F. W. Barnes, Chadron, Highway 20; Miles Snyder, Flate, Highway 92; Arnold Cundick, Arcadia, Highway 30; Van Venet Millburn, North-South Highway; and Cliff Sandall, North Platte, chairman of the Nebraska Highway Builders' committee who had been asked to meet with the board.

The AN-AR-HA also represents associations: Highway 6, Highway 27, Highway 83, Highway 163, Highway 281.

Gleeson Rites Wednesday; State Official

WAHOO, Neb. (Lincoln Star Special)—Funeral services for William T. Gleeson, 48-year-old deputy state attorney general, will be held at the Presbyterian Church here Wednesday at 2 p.m. He died unexpectedly at his home in Wahoo Monday morning while shaving.

Gleeson, a former deputy secretary of state, joined the staff of the attorney general in January of 1949 and became deputy on March 1, 1952. He joined the staff of the secretary of state as deputy in 1946, serving until joining the staff of the attorney general.

Before going to Lincoln, he served as Saunders county attorney. He commuted between Lincoln and his home in Wahoo. Surviving are his wife and two daughters, Patricia and Willa.

Praised By Governor
Governor Val Peterson described Deputy Attorney General Gleeson as "one of the most thorough, conscientious, hard-working and sensible men I've ever known in government."

Governor Peterson recalled he had known Gleeson since the Wahoo man had first served as deputy secretary of state, before joining the attorney general's staff in 1949.

"He was an ideal man in the type of work he was in," Peterson commented. March 1, 1952, Gleeson became deputy attorney general, accepting a reduction in pay in order to make possible reorganization of the office.

Expert On Laws
He was considered an expert on various types of laws and in recent weeks had been working nights, Sundays and holidays keeping up with the legal work on which he specialized.

Laws pertaining to counties and schools particularly interested him and he had been writing a brief and preparing to appear before the Supreme court on the appeal.

North Platte Pair Charged As Aides To Kenneth Kitts
OMAHA (AP)—The government has charged two men with helping Kenneth Kitts, convicted Omaha burglar now in Alcatraz, after he had escaped from the county jail in Cedar Rapids.

William G. Slankard and Calvin Robinson, both of North Platte, have been charged with three counts each of conspiracy, harboring a criminal and being an accessory after the fact.

Slankard, who served a year in Illinois when he was convicted of aiding Kitts there, is free on bond of $10,000. Robinson is being held in the Douglas County Jail in lieu of $25,000 bond. He was brought here from South Dakota.

Motor Vehicle Amendment Is Needed-Marvel

GRAND ISLAND, Neb. (AP)—Sen. Richard Marvel of Hastings charged Monday that many parent and teacher groups are hearing only one side of the argument on the proposed constitutional amendment 302, which would permit a change in the method of taxing motor vehicles.

"In many cases a speaker who believed in amendment 302 was not permitted to argue his position," Marvel declared. He added that much of the information used to promote opposition to the amendment will not stand up under legal or common sense reasoning.

"This amendment is needed if the Legislature is to stop motor vehicle tax evasion. This evasion has now reduced revenue to schools and other subdivisions of government," Marvel continued.

He said educational leaders who now oppose No. 302 failed to advise or consult the Legislature during public hearings and debate on the issue.

In addition, certain school leaders who originally professed a neutral position have now backed down from their stand without giving a logical reason, he said.

Marvel said that if the proposed amendment is defeated, "a small group of policy makers in the field of education must assume their share of responsibility for the annual $400,000 tax loss through motor vehicle tax evasion."

Sen. Marvel spoke at a Grand Island teachers' meeting Monday.

Ex-Kimball Man Drowns In Alaska

KIMBALL, Neb. — Word has been received here of the death of a former Kimball man, Carl Forsling, 35, son of C. A. Forsling of Kimball.

Carl Forsling drowned in a small stream near his farm home in Valdez, near Anchorage, Alaska. He apparently missed his footing while fording the stream and slipped on the rocks.

Born and raised in Kimball, he was a graduate of Kimball County High School. He lived in Alaska for the past 15 years.

GOP 'Smears From Glass House' Hit

Mitchell Replies To Gov. Adams

WASHINGTON (INS)—Democratic Chairman Stephen Mitchell Monday accused Gen. Eisenhower's campaign manager of throwing "smear" charges from the "glass house of Nixonism, McCarthyism and Jennerism."

Mitchell's comeback was in reply to the claim of Gov. Sherman Adams that the Democrats will "stop at nothing" in the final week of the presidential campaign and will issue "week before election" innuendos and below-the-belt charges.

The Democrats' reply coincided with an assist given Gov. Stevenson by former Democratic chairman James A. Farley, who praised the Democratic presidential nominee for what he called early recognition of the Red menace and his fight against it.

Farley, introducing a rebroadcast of Stevenson's Detroit speech on the Communist threat, declared that the Illinois governor is "no Johnny-come-lately" in the struggle against Communism. Stevenson's repeat speech, with Farley's introduction, was scheduled just after the widely billed anti-Stevenson address of Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.).

While strategists of both parties have their private doubts about the outcome of the presidential race, the Democrats appeared to have the advantage in the contest for Senate control. A national survey indicated that the presidential contest may influence some Senate fights but that the Democrats can retain control even if they lose the White House.

Statistically, the Democrats need to win only 15 of the 34 seats at stake on Nov. 4 to retain Senate control—but the GOP must win 21 to shift that control to their side.

Sen. Dirksen, (R-Ill.), GOP senatorial campaign chairman, said "Everyone recognizes the Republicans have an uphill fight to take over the Senate." But Dirksen claimed the presidential contest "has the makings of a modest landslide for Eisenhower," which he said could turn the Senate.

Teen-Ager Found Dead On Mountain

LONGVIEW, Wash. (INS)—A Kelso, Wash., teen-ager, missing on snowy slopes of rugged Mt. St. Helens since Sunday, was found dead Monday.

The Washington state patrol, relaying radio reports from searchers on the mountain, said the body of Pat Girardot, 17, was located near the 6,800-foot elevation.

State Patrol Sgt. L. A. Grimes said the searchers indicated it would require four to six hours to return the climber's body to the base camp at Spirit Lake.

Square Dance Classes Will Start On Nov. 3

The Lincoln Folk and Square Dance Council, in co-operation with the Lincoln Recreation Board, will sponsor square dance classes starting Monday, Nov. 3, from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m.

Classes will also be held Nov. 10 and 17. All classes will be held in the girls' gymnasium at Lincoln High School. Instructor will be Walter Ernst with Mrs. H. Flood as accompanist.

There will be no charge for the classes but interested persons are asked to register for the classes at the City Recreation Department.

DEMOCRATS Senate Of Demos Seen

WASHINGTON (INS)—A national survey Monday indicated the presidential election will influence some Senate races but the Democrats can gain control of the next Senate even if they lose the White House.

The main reason for this potential outcome is that the Democrats have 34 holdover senators and need win but 15 out of 34 current contests to retain a majority in the upper branch of Congress. On the other hand, the Republicans must win 21 of the 34 contests to shift control to their party.

The startling action of Sen. Wayne Morse, of Oregon, in resigning from the Republican party may further handicap his former political colleagues. If Morse should vote with the Democrats to organize the Senate, the GOP would have to win an additional seat to offset him. If Morse merely voted as an independent, there would be no change in either party's quota for winning control of the next Senate.

WASHINGTON (INS)—President Truman praised Democratic party workers Monday and declared that Gov. Stevenson and Sen. Sparkman would "lick the big-money boys" as he did four years ago.

The President's statements were made in a letter to 170,000 workers which was published in the current issue of the Democrat, official party newspaper.

Custer County Farm Mishaps Hurt 4 Badly

BROKEN BOW, Neb. (P)—Four persons have been seriously injured in farm accidents in the Custer County area in the last several days, two of them in corn picker accidents.

Fritz Dressen, who lives 8 miles west of Sargent, lost his left hand at the wrist in a corn picker accident Monday. Ira Pitkin, who lives near Callaway, also had to have a hand amputated following a similar accident last Wednesday. He was wearing gloves while cleaning out the rollers of his mechanical corn picker and his hand was pulled into the rollers. No bones were broken but his hand was so badly mangled it had to be amputated.

Frank Brabham, about 70, and his grandson, Dean, were seriously burned Saturday afternoon when Brabham started to throw oil on a fire with which he was burning off some land at his farm near Callaway. The fire whipped back and ignited the boy's clothing. Brabham grabbed the boy and carried him to the water tank.

The boy had second degree burns over 70 per cent of his body and the grandfather had third degree burns on his back, arm and side, caused chiefly by the overheating of a metal brace he wore on account of a back ailment. Brabham also has a heart ailment, and it was feared the accident might aggravate it.

Dean has been in critical condition in a Callaway hospital, but was reported improved Monday.

Straw Poll Favors Ike

PALO ALTO, Calif. (INS)—A straw poll on the presidential race published Monday by the Stanford University Daily, a student publication, showed a heavy lead for Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, the Republican nominee.

The Daily contacted 288 students out of 7,237 and reported 68 per cent were for Eisenhower, 28 per cent for his Democratic opponent, Gov. Adlai Stevenson, and 4 per cent undecided.

On the question of who they thought would win, the students divided 50 per cent for Eisenhower, 39 per cent Stevenson and 11 per cent undecided.

Stanford is ex-President Herbert Hoover's alma mater.

REPUBLICANS Mrs. Harwood, 91, Resident Of State For 55 Years, Dies

OMAHA (P)—Nebraska's share of federal spending for the first three months of the fiscal year amounted to about $150 million, Sen. Butler (R-Neb.) said Monday.

Butler cited an announcement that the federal government has already spent 17 billion, 830 million dollars for the July-September period as an illustration of the way "federal tax policies are draining us dry at the local level."

He said that while Nebraskans had to divvy up 150 millions for federal costs during the period, the state was spending $24,232,000. "In other words, we are sending about six times as much tax money to Washington for federal purposes as we are spending in the state for state purposes," he said.

"We have tough problems to meet at the state level, too," he added. "If we are having a hard time meeting our urgent needs for roads, schools and other things here in Nebraska, you can lay it on the fact that there is not much left for local and state requirements after the federal tax collector has finished with the taxpayer."

"That is one reason so many people are demanding a change in Washington—to get rid of Federal extravagance and waste," he said.

Land Reform Extended

SAN FRANCISCO (P)—Communist China has decided to extend land reform to the nomad herders and peasants of remote Sinkiang province on the borders of Russia.

A Peiping radio broadcast, heard here, said the land redistribution program among four million people would take place this winter and next spring.

The Red broadcast promised that customs and religious beliefs of Sinkiang's many diverse peoples would be respected. There are many Moslems and Buddhists in the region.

If We Had Our Choice

A WEEK FROM today is the big day for everyone in these United States of America and Paramount interest, of course, is in the top bracket, politically speaking. If we were given our "druthers," we'd "druther be in the newspaper business — it's not one of those "can't win for losing" jobs.

IN THE MEANTIME life goes on as usual, boos, cheers — a little of everything and that's just what we have this morning by way of news, too — a little of everything.

There's a game coming up at home this week-end, in case you hadn't heard, and we've been collecting guests this aye — Understand that Mr. and Mrs. William E. Hillyard, jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Nicholas of St. Joseph, Mo., will be arriving about Friday to spend the week-end as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Gillaspie.

ALSO ON THE guest list from St. Joseph will be Mr. and Mrs. Charles Thomas who will come Saturday morning to attend the game and to spend the week-end as the guests of Mrs. Thomas's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Elsworth DuTeau.

COMING from Grand Island for the game and the week-end will be Mr. and Mrs. C. Ray Gates who will be dinner guests Saturday evening at the home of Mrs. Gate's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. James P. Ede.

APPROPOS OF guests — just heard that Mr. and Mrs. Charles Burke Morris will be arriving on Thursday from Clarksburg, Va., for a brief visit with their daughter, Mrs. Burkett Van Kirk, and Mr. Van Kirk.

SOMEONE told us that Mr. and Mrs. Ted Barger had house guests the past week-end — Mrs. Barger's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. James O. Harrison of Downs, Kans.

THE SCHWENKERS — Mr. and Mrs. A. C. are looking forward to Monday, November 10, when they board plane for Lexington, Ky., where the marriage of their son, Warren, and Miss Lelia Nichols will take place on Sunday, November 16. Also going from Lincoln to attend the wedding will be Mr. and Mrs. Schwenker's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Jones and their three daughters, Connie, Nancy and Virginia, who will drive to Kentucky.

The family circle will be completed, the first time in many years, when Mr. and Mrs. Schwenker and their Lincoln family, will be joined in Lexington by the Schwenkers' son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Schwenker and their daughters, Ann and Mary Ellen, of Tabor, N. J.

OUR CALENDAR tells us that the members of the Patriarchs club will be having a Hallo-wen party Wednesday evening when the group meets for dinner at the Lincoln Country club.

WE SCARCELY could believe our ears — but it's true — the Sustaining members of the Lincoln Junior League will be hostesses on Tuesday, November 4 — ELECTION day — when they entertain the provisional members of the League at the home of Mrs. Ellery Hall Davis.

Toastmistress Club Has Dinner

A talk, "Are We On The Right Bus?" was given by Mrs. Florence Carrio at the Monday evening dinner-meeting of the Lincoln Toastmistress Club, held at the YWCA. Other speakers and their topics were: Miss Annie Laurie Smith, "Greenfield Village"; and Mrs. Bertha Johnston, "It's Your Ticket."

Miss Edith Lumsden presided at the meeting, and topic mistress during dinner was Miss Mercedes Ames. Mrs. Mildred Wood was toastmistress, and general evaluator was Mrs. Luella Hurley.

Cathedral PTA Plans Shower

The Cathedral P.T.A. met Friday afternoon, October 24, at the Cathedral Hall and heard the Rt. Rev. C. J. Riordan speak on "Problems of the Child in Home and School."

Mrs. Merle Stainbrook presided at the short business meeting at which plans for the annual food shower for Sisters of the school were completed.

Senior mothers were hostesses, including Mrs. Edward Noha, Mrs. George Hotoy and Mrs. Francis Motousik.

Minerva's Mail

Some days it just doesn't pay to get up — or so it seems. Those days happen to everyone, and there's not a sign of anything in the world that is particularly serious unless it is fatigue. We all have had those days — some times several days when everything in the world goes wrong — You wonder if you're just doing everything wrong, if your health is slipping, and whether or not your brain already has slipped. I think perhaps what the writer of the following letter needs most is a vacation, regardless of how brief, from household duties. She says:

Dear Minerva: Because I don't care to discuss this matter with anyone who knows me, I am writing to you. Maybe just the mere writing will help — I hope so. I seem, suddenly, to have come to the end of my rope, and while today wasn't worse than any other day, probably, it certainly was typical of my life. I woke up at the usual time — my husband still sound asleep — and tripped over a light cord. He had been reading until all hours and had failed to put the lamp and bed table back where it was supposed to be. In tripping over the cord I pulled over the table, broke the lamp, knocked off an ashtray full of ashes and dead cigarettes. Went down to make the coffee, dropped the percolator and broke it. Spilled the fruit juice, burned the toast. Went back upstairs to wake up the rest of the family and discovered that my two youngest had had a water fight in the bathroom — the towels were dripping, and the floor was a mess. My oldest was entertaining herself at my dressing table, "primping" for school — lipstick, rouge, powder — Cleaning her face was only the small part of the ordeal — she dropped the powder container and powder flew here and there, and everywhere. That meant hours and hours of work — extra work — Later the washing machine broke. Back upstairs to find that the twins had taken out all of their father's clothes from his closet, and had been dressing up in them. Every suit, every hat was a mess. I corralled the twins, stacked up the clothes for the cleaners, and laid me down to rest — Then I heard great and gleeful shouts — The twins were fascinated with an outdoors event — I went to see what was happening and soon learned — A water main had bursted in our yard. That was too much. I just sat down and cried. Now that is just one day — there are many equally as bad. Am I doing everything wrong — getting jittery over nothing, or do these things happen to everyone. L. D.

American Style

And so to pancakes. Have you ever tried combining ordinary pancake ready-mix with buckwheat ready-mix? Here's how to do it:

HALF 'N HALF PANCAKES
Ingredients: 1 cup pancake ready-mix, 1 cup buckwheat ready-mix, 2 1/4 cups milk.
Method: Stir pancake ready-mix and buckwheat ready-mix together, add milk all at once and stir lightly. (Somewhat lumpy batter makes light fluffy pancakes.) Pour 1/4 cup of the batter for each pancake onto a hot lightly-greased griddle. Bake to a rich brown, turning only once. Makes 14 to 16 pancakes.

Serve the pancakes and bacon with maple-blended syrup. It's a good and thrifty blend of cane and maple syrup. The syrup is particularly delicious on hot cakes when it's heated before serving. Put the tin or bottle in a pan of warm water and heat gently for a few minutes. Or pour the syrup into a small saucepan, add an equal amount of butter or margarine — or as much as you can spare, and heat gently.

Nine Musts For Beauty

reveals otherwise hard-to-detect blemishes and lines so you can correct them before they become apparent to others.

2. Lying with your feet propped higher than your head whenever possible induces your circulation to carry color to your cheeks — and impurities away. 3. A man's shaving brush and a mentholated shaving cream or a toothpaste containing milk of magnesia is a sure means of attaining deep, slate-clean cleansing. 4. Disposables gauze pads and cotton balls are of immeasurable value in preventing the spread of infections from a pimple to a dermatitis when you dispose of them after just one application.

5. Dab-ons that contain calamine plus other healing agents are quick banishers of occasional blemishes. 6. New treatments containing vitamins, nascent oxygen, hormones, moisture or astringents are helpful in prolonging youthful skin; investigate and experiment to find those that will do the most for you.

7. To clear the skin and stimulate fresh color, use an occasional mask. Make your own by adding a few drops of lemon juice to a whipped egg white, or seek the commercial one that suits your skin type.

8. Use only upward and outward strokes of your fingertips in applying treatments and bases to encourage an uplift of facial muscles. 9. During a day at home provide extra hours of skin-coddling by using your night-care treatment instead of cosmetics. Just apply an oily one sparingly and finish off with the nearest lipstick and hair-do; then whether it's the postman or a friend who rings twice you'll be attractively presentable!

National PTA Plans Meeting

Mrs. Newton P. Leonard, president of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, has announced plans for an international conference on "the child in home, school and community," to be held at East Lansing, Mich., November 18 to 22.

The conference, which will attempt to "work out cooperatively the basic principles of effective home-school, parent-teacher cooperation," will be jointly sponsored by the National Congress of P.T.A. and the Canadian Home and School, and Parent-Teacher Federation, of which G. F. Bruce of Edmonton, Alberta, Canada, is president.

Planned to include a series of workshop group discussions as well as general meetings and field trips to cultural centers, playgrounds and agencies working with children, the conference will be attended by parent-teacher representatives from South America, Europe and nations with membership in the World Organization of the Teaching Profession.

Mrs. Leonard of Providence, R. I., has been awarded recently three special honors for her social work and service to youth. Her alma mater, Mount Holyoke college, presented her with a citation for promoting her "chosen theme of welfare work for children." Bryant college, Providence, awarded her an honorary doctor of education degree, and the annual Captain George Bucklin medal of merit for outstanding service to youth was presented to her by the Narragansett, R. I., council of Boy Scouts.

Inter-Club Plans Talk

A variety of short talks describing the organization and activities of some of the member clubs in Inter-Club Council will be presented by club presidents at the regular council meeting, Tuesday noon, at the Chamber of Commerce.

The speakers will include: Mrs. A. D. Miller, American Legion Auxiliary; Mrs. Harry Dorn, Army Mothers; Mrs. Stuart Goldberg, Lincoln Section of the Council of Jewish Women; Mrs. E. C. Rosenquist, League of Women Voters of Lincoln; Miss Norma Carpenter, Altruza club; and Miss Doris Pierce, city recreation board.

A talk on the proposed constitutional amendments will be given by Mrs. Katherine Hurst, and Mrs. Richard Miles, council president, will preside at the meeting.

Fortnightly Meets Tuesday

On Tuesday at 1 o'clock, Mrs. Harry Everett will be the hostess for the meeting of Fortnightly club. After luncheon at the University Club, Mrs. Joseph W. Seacrest will be in charge of the program.

Introducing—The Max Careys

New, though temporary residents in Lincoln, on "Operation Bootstrap" are air force officer, Lieut. Colonel Max Carey, Mrs. Carey, and the two small Careys, Dan and Tom. The Careys have been stationed at Patrick air force base, Eau Gallie, Fla., but since Colonel Carey was one of the many who enlisted back in 1940 before his graduation from college, the family has come to Lincoln so that he may finish his work towards a degree in chemistry at the University of Nebraska. The air force officer feels that he wants this important semester of work in science so that he may keep abreast of what is going on in his particular field, which has to do with the guided missile tests at the center in Cocoa Beach, Fla.

Colonel Carey is a native Nebraskan, but Mrs. Carey calls Fort Worth, Tex., her "home town." During the war Mrs. Carey was a supervisor at San Antonio's Duncan field where she met the colonel who then was a cadet. Later plans included a plane trip to Hickam field, Hawaii, where the young army officer was stationed following his graduation, and a wedding on Christmas day of 1941. Needless to say the reservations for the plane trip were cancelled, but eighteen months and several major campaigns later, the wedding took place, and during the first year of their married life they were stationed at thirteen different bases.

All the moving around and the military red tape has been worth the virtual paradise they now enjoy in Florida! As a reserve on active duty, Col. Carey and his family have access to the beach, where they spend most of every day they aren't shrimping and crabbing, gardening or sightseeing! Like most officers of his station, he enjoys his share of entertaining, and, like most women everywhere, Mrs. Carey has her cub scouts, garden club, PTA, music, and community service work to keep her jumping!

1948 Withdrawal From Korea Ike's Idea—Truman

Eisenhower Staff Chief At That Time

GARY, Ind. (AP)—President Truman declared Monday night that Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower himself was responsible for recommending the withdrawal of U.S. occupation troops from Korea in 1948.

Eisenhower has said this decision was made by the State Department and that the withdrawal of the troops was part of a "territorial record" which led to the Communist invasion of South Korea and thus to the outbreak of war.

International News Service said a capacity crowd of 4,500 cheered when the President entered Memorial Auditorium with his daughter Margaret. Some 1,500 others could not gain entrance. A crowd estimated at 50,000 packed the streets of downtown Gary.

Truman said in a detailed statement:

Was On Staff
"At the time this recommendation was made, the Republican candidate was chief of staff of the Army. As a member of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, he was responsible for this recommendation."

"I say, too, that his effort to shift responsibility to the Department of State for a recommendation which was his originally is thoroughly dishonest."

Truman issued his 2,600-word statement as his Stevenson-for-President Campaign Special rolled into industrial Gary.

In the prepared Gary speech, Truman said that fate—meaning the possibility Eisenhower might die in office—might put a reactionary foe of labor in the White House if the Republicans win next week's election. He referred to the GOP vice presidential candidate, Sen. Richard M. Nixon.

In a brief, barbed attack on Eisenhower's vice presidential running mate, Sen. Richard Nixon of California, Truman said the selection of a vice president can be "pretty important" because "we never know what fate has in store for any one of us. I never expected that I would have to take over from President Roosevelt, who was only 63 when he died."

Eisenhower now is 62, Nixon is 39.

Truman hit out at Nixon in a

THEY GREETED THE HEROES OF EL ALAMEIN—Prime Minister Winston Churchill of Great Britain puts on a big cigar as he shakes hands with Gen. Matthew B. prepared address advising Eisenhower to curb his temper and look at the "Murderer's Row" of Republicans around him before promising any sort of progressive legislation.

"When it comes to the vice president this time," said Truman, "the Democratic candidate, Sen. John Sparkman, is a liberal and the Republican candidate is a reactionary. The Democratic candidate votes for the working man and the Republican votes against him."

Nixon, the President said, "has worked for the passage of union-busting legislation even more punitive than the Taft-Hartley Law."

Referring to the "Murderer's Row" of Republicans, Truman declared:

"This crew would push our country into an isolationist foreign policy no matter what the Republican candidate might try to do as President."

Taft His Target

As for home front matters the President said that in spite of Eisenhower's promises Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio, "will be standing there just like Horatius at the bridge ready to mow down any progressive legislative proposals."

Truman tossed this reference to the Roman hero of Maculley's poem into a speech prepared for the steel-making city of Gary on the first day of his fifth and final campaign swing for Gov. Stevenson.

Changing tactics somewhat, the President treated Eisenhower with relatively gentle sarcasm, by contrast with the heavy artillery he brought to bear on Eisenhower during the earlier whistle stop tours.

Nixon Reactionary

Truman called Nixon a reactionary who has "worked for the passage of union-busting legislation even more punitive than the Taft-Hartley Act."

Then Truman quoted Eisenhower as having said at New Haven, Conn., recently, that he couldn't do anything except "get angry" when the Republicans are accused of wanting to repeal social security laws.

I can suggest something for him to do when he gets over being angry," the President said. "That's to look into the record of the men he calls his team in Congress. He really should have done that first. . . . Look who would be standing behind Taft in a Republican Congress. Gov. Stevenson called them the 'Murderer's row,' and that's a good name for them. . . . The candidate ought to hold his temper and take a look at the other members of his team."

Dirty Work Done

The President said he referred to "reactionaries and isolationists" such as Sens. McCarthy of Wisconsin, Bricker of Ohio, Jenner and Capehart of Indiana and Kern of Missouri—and House members Martin of Massachusetts, Allen and Chittenden of Illinois, Halleck of Indiana, Taber of New York and Hoffman of Michigan.

Truman said that during the first month of Eisenhower's campaign he thought the General "was going to line up quite openly with the Old Guard."

But now the candidate "has got all that dirty work behind him."

'Greater Lincoln Evangelistic Crusade' Organization Begins

Organization of the "Greater Lincoln Evangelistic Crusade" to be held beginning the last week of next February is now under way.

A group of 26 ministers and laymen representing 15 Protestant denominations named a steering committee for a to-be-organized non-profit corporation which will sponsor an "inter-church, city-wide campaign."

The organization will sponsor Dr. Jack Shuler of Los Angeles, Calif., and his evangelistic team in a two-week series of meetings to be held in Lincoln beginning the last week of February.

Dr. C. R. Mattison, pastor of Sheldahl Avenue Baptist church, was named chairman of the steering committee. Other members include:

Rev. S. K. Bille, Jr., pastor of Assembly of God, vice chairman.
Rev. James Leonard, pastor of the Evangelical Free church, secretary.
Rev. Van Hecan of Central Church Christian and Missouri Alliance, promotion manager.

Rev. P. V. Holloway, pastor of the Free Methodist church, finance chairman.
Rev. G. W. Perry, pastor of First Church of the Nazarene, personal workers' chairman.

A Crusade spokesman said the group "expected support of 40 Lincoln churches. An auditorium capable of seating 5,000 persons would be engaged for the evangelism series, probably at the State Fair Grounds."

"The Crusade," said Dr. Shuler, "will reach out to persons who are not members of any church." The evangelist described himself as a "fourth generation preacher."

"My father, Dr. Bob Shuler at 72, has been pastor of the 5,000-member Trinity Methodist church in downtown Los Angeles for the past 34 years, and my grandfather, J. W. W. Shuler, is 92 and an active preacher in Texas."

Industry Depends On Research Says James G. Shennan

Private industry depends "heavily on research and engineering to make it possible to provide more and better goods and services at lower cost in terms of hours of work," said James G. Shennan, president of the Elgin National Watch Company of Elgin, Ill., and Lincoln, Monday evening.

Discussing the topic "The Place of Research and Engineering in Industry," Shennan, who is from Elgin, Ill., told members of the Lincoln Engineers Club that a higher standard of living can be attained "only through success of profitable, well managed private industry" which in turn depends on the research.

This increasingly high standard of living," he said, is a principle objective of the American people, and a course to which the "whole nation is committed."

"Engineering and research are very important in increasing this standard," he continued.

Shennan was introduced by R. W. Mills, program chairman James Ludwickson, president presided at the meeting.

THE LINCOLN STAR 9

Col. R. C. Miller, Native Of Lincoln, Dies Of Gunshot

Funeral arrangements are pending for Col. Reginald C. Miller, 44, a native of Lincoln, who was found shot to death in his Falls Church, Va., apartment Monday

A .22 caliber rifle lay beneath the body of Col. Miller, who was with the Army Judge Advocate General in Washington, D. C. A certificate of suicide was issued by a coroner, press dispatches said.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. D. R. C. Miller of 1845 West O, Col. Miller was born here and attended Lincoln High School. He graduated from the University of Nebraska Law School in 1933.

For several years he practiced law in Omaha. He then moved to Des Moines for a year before entering the service on Nov. 8, 1940, as a reserve officer.

During his service tour he served in the infantry before being assigned to the legal division of the army. He spent over four years in the Panama Canal Zone, and recently returned from a three-month inspection tour of European bases.

Col. Miller's father is a retired former assistant county treasurer.

In 1931 Col. Miller married Dorothy Ramsey, daughter of Henry D. Ramsey, Omaha insurance man, and the sister of James D. Ramsey, director of the Nebraska Department of Aeronautics.

Surviving, besides his wife and parents, are two sons, J. R. C., a student at West Point Military Academy; Dyson, at home; and a daughter, Patricia Ann.

City Council Denies Off-Sale Beer License On South Street

Press Report Issue Raised

With another discussion of where off-sale beer and liquor licenses may be placed, the City Council denied the off-sale beer application of George Geier for 3865 South.

Councilwoman Mrs. Fern Hubbard Orme and Councilman Roy Sheaff did not vote on the application, contending that the application was not in approved form. Other Council members contended the approved form of application was too costly in view of the fact that the council would undoubtedly deny the application anyway.

Mayor Victor E. Anderson took issue with press reports of last week relative to a new Council policy on where licenses could be located. Contrary to the thinking of the Council, said Anderson, the press reports gave the idea that licenses would now be placed over the entire city.

Those reports, however, simply quoted the contents of the new policy resolution which stipulates that applications for licenses in any part of the city can be approved at the future discretion of the Council. No reports said what the Council would do with applications for liquor licenses outside the immediate downtown area.

Any Area

City Atty. V. Russell Mattson and Councilmen Ray Sheaff and Clark Jeary confirmed the fact that the new policy resolution permits applications for off-sale beer and liquor licenses to be made for any area of the city. Furthermore, the Council is not now bound, as a matter of policy, to deny such applications.

Council members, however, did generally agree with Anderson that the practice of allowing off-sale licenses anywhere would not be adopted. While all future off-sale licenses will be considered individually, it is understood at this time that license locations will probably remain limited to the general downtown area.

As a matter of zoning, such licenses would not be allowed in anything less than local business zoning even if permitted beyond the downtown area.

The Council set the date of Nov. 17 for a hearing on the application of Sam Mozer to purchase an existing off-sale beer license and move it to 424 So. 11th.

City Makes Final Payment On Meters

The City Council has authorized the last payment of $1,764 to the M. H. Rhoades Company for the city's 350 new 30 minute parking meters.

The payment represents a part of last month's receipts and concludes the contract with Rhoades. The 350 meters cost a total of $19,425.

Parking meter receipts for September show the 30 minute meters brought in a total of $4,493. Combined parking meter receipts for that month totaled $13,355.

City To Receive Bids On Terminal Building Work

The City will receive bids Nov. 8 on the estimated $36,000 grading work to be done for erection of the new terminal building at the Lincoln Air Force Base.

The work will involve the hauling of some 85,000 cubic yards of dirt into the terminal site at the southeast corner of the field. The Council has approved the plans and cost estimate.

Other projects approved include a $10,000 estimate for construction of a sewer district in 20th from Calvert to Burnham, in Stockwell and Burnham from 20th to Bryan and in Woods from Stockwell to Bryan. A $33,000 estimate was approved for a water district in the same location.

Council Tables Cigarette Vending Machine Plan

The City Council has tabled the application of L. J. Van Valin for permission to install cigarette vending machines in the city.

The Council did so after being informed the vending machines did not have the sanction of the Veterans of Foreign Wars as reported last week by Leonard Owens. Owens wrote the Council that he was mistaken in the belief that the VFW would sponsor the machines.

Ten Downtown Gridders On All-City Midget Teams

TEN players from Downtown's City Midget Football League champions won places on the All-City Midget League teams chosen for The Star by the Sportsman-ship Policy Committee of the Lincoln Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The Jaycees are sponsors of the midget grid program in the Capital City.

Members of the committee who picked the offensive and defensive eleven are Midget Football Commissioner Bill Inbody, Jerry Ahern, Bob Lund, Ken Jones and Morris Schneider. The members used ability and the will to compete as their yardstick in compiling the selections.

Downtown—coached by Ardie Means and Vic Kohler—wound up the season with four wins, a loss and a tie. The team will journey to Omaha Sunday to vie with Sioux City Roberts and Omaha

Brandeis in a three-way playoff to determine the district's representative in the Santa Claus Bowl.

Downtown drew the Sioux City team in the opening game. The winner will play Brandeis in the windup game of the afternoon.

South Street, coached by Dick Beechner and Louie Roper, placed second in the final standings and had a 3-2-1 mark, including one loss by forfeit. The team won five spots on the All-City team.

Northeast placed four players on the select squad and Roberts earned three berths, including Ron Stewart, 13-year-old guard who is a candidate for Pop Warner Midget Football Conference All America honors.

Northeast, coached by Don Scunlon, and Roberts, coached by Ed Dosek, tied for third and fourth in league play with one win, three losses and a pair of ties.

Husker Pair Nominated For AP Title

Minnick, Emanuel Given Lineman Of Week Boost

By FRANK PITMAN

DENVER (P)—Three linemen who starred in the Colorado-Nebraska 16-16 tie and two hard-plunging fullbacks on Utah teams were nominated Monday for the Associated Press All America football team.

The nominations were made by the Rocky Mountain regional board composed of Chet Nelson, sports editor of the Rocky Mountain news; John Mooney, sports editor of the Salt Lake City Tribune, and John Steele, sports czar for Radio Station KOWB, Laramie, Wyo.

Emanuel, an AP All Big Seven Conference selection last year, and Minnick were two big reasons why Colorado's offense edged against Nebraska.

Both are 19 year old juniors. Minnick is a 6-feet 4-inch 215 pounder and Emanuel weighs 200 pounds and stands 6 feet 1.

Stander, biggest man on Colorado's squad, smeared many Nebraska running plays with hard charges into the blockers. He is a 6 feet 4 inch junior from Denver.

Rocket Jrs. Thump Fremont 2nds, 18-0

Northeast Reserves won their fourth straight and wound up their season with a four-win, one-loss record Monday night as they downed the Fremont Reserves, 18-0, on the Rocket practice field.

Jim Lee, Tom Hare and Dee Haas were the individual stars in the diversified Rocket attack that saw Coach Eddie Johnson playing a full squad complement after his charges dented the scoring column in the second heat.

Haas pitched 20 yards to Hare in the end zone for the Rocket Juniors' first tally, capping a drive that began on the Northeast 40. The Tiger Cubs had stopped an earlier Rocket drive when they took possession of a fumble on their own 10.

Fullback Lee scored in each of the last two frames, crashing across tackle from the 15 on both occasions to terminate drives of 80 yards. Fremont's seconds, meanwhile, were never able to penetrate within Northeast's 30-yard stripe.

Northeast's lone loss of the season came in its first game, when Waverly took the long end of a 20-6 decision.

THE FIRING LINE

by NORRIS ANDERSON SPORTS EDITOR, THE STAR

SOME years ago when Deacon Branch Rickey was general manager of the St. Louis Cardinals, he purchased Jacques Fournier, hard-hitting first baseman, from the Milwaukee Brewers.

After closing the deal, Rickey called Fournier on the long distance telephone, told him the news and said he would like to know something about him before he reported to the Cards.

"Do you smoke?" asked Rickey.

"Yes," replied Fournier.

"Well, do you drink?" asked Rickey.

"Yes."

Rickey, known as one of baseball's most pious men, paused for a moment before continuing the questioning.

"Do you play cards for money?"

"One more thing, Fournier, do you go out with women?"

"Yes."

"Good heavens, Fournier!" exclaimed Rickey. "You must have horns!"

SAY, Adam Krieger, did you ever hear of a wrestler going right through the floor? Well, it actually happened in Milwaukee back in 1942 when the inimitable Bill Vecek was there, dreaming up gags for the baseball brewers.

In this particular match Bill had arranged to have a center section of the ring sawed loose.

The "lucky" grappler was hurled through the air in a swan dive and came right in the bullseye. Everything gave way, as was planned, and the surprised (what's that?) wrestler continued his dive right out of sight.

Then, just to make the gag complete, up came a shower of sawdust and chips of wood, thrown by someone the Vecekian genius had conveniently planted down below.

ODD bits . . . Stan Hack, the old Cub star and later Des Moines pilot, has signed his 1953 pact as skipper of the Los Angeles Angels. . . D. X. Bible, the old Husker skipper and now athletic director at Texas, says there's one way to guarantee the financial success of a school's football season. . . "All you have to do is schedule Notre Dame," says Dee-X.

FROM the Friday corner: "Nebraska 21, Colorado 20—Husker defensive play reaches a new crest this day and the offensive blocking will show new fire. There'll be a few new maneuvers that'll startle the Buffs, especially on the aerial side."

Thank you Huskers, for making that wild prediction nearly come true.

Movies Don't Show Hardy Stepped Out Of Bounds

By NORRIS ANDERSON Sports Editor, The Star

MOVIES of the Nebraska-Colo-rado game did not show whether Carroll Hardy, Buffalo halfback, stepped out of bounds on his 87-yard run that enabled Colorado to tie the Nebraska, 16-16, Saturday at Boulder.

That's what Coach J. William Glassford of the Cornhuskers told the University Club Quarterbacks Monday noon.

"There were too many people standing along the sidelines," the Husker coach explained. Glassford and his entire bench were up arguing at the time that Hardy had stepped out of bounds twice, once near the 50-yard line.

"Dennis Korinek pressured Hardy and Andy Leach finally halted him on the Nebraska nine. From there, Colorado scored in four plays to tie up the game," Glassford told the Quarterbacks.

Explaining the presence of Bobby Reynolds to try a field goal with 30 seconds remaining, Glassford said: "We had to put Bob in two plays earlier (for use as a decoy, out of playing action) because we would have had to take a penalty for too much time and the clock was ticking off the last seconds."

Reynolds' return was speeded by the fact that there was more tissue left in his shoulder separation than had first been noted, Glassford said.

As to why the Huskers tried the field goal on third down, instead of fourth, with 30 seconds left, the Husker coach explained: "The seconds were going awfully fast and we were afraid we would run out of time. If we'd run out of time, you Quarterbacks would probably be attacking me now with your knives and forks."

Glassford, in issuing warm praise for his squad, said that "The best thing of all is that we have as many men playing the game from the bench as we have on the field."

Rooting from the bench became so rabid, he explained, that at times he had to restrain players from jumping to the sidelines.

Announcement on how much Reynolds will play against Missouri Saturday will come later in the week, Glassford said.

"It won't be hard for me to die when the time comes," smiled the Husker coach. "I died a thousand deaths Saturday."

Glassford said his defensive

plans were to keep Zack Jordan, triple-threat Colorado backfield ace, hemmed inside so he couldn't get rolling on any of his dangerous run-or-pass plays where he runs laterally to either side.

"We did a good job, too, considering that Jordan's passes gained only 56 yards and his running never bothered us."

Although praising all of his defensive hands, he pointed to Linebacker Verl Scott and Tackle Ed Husemann as "doing tremendous jobs."

He thought that his squad "finished as strong as it started" and said that the altitude had no effect. Flying from Lincoln Saturday morning, the squad returned to the Capital City Saturday night.

"The whole trip, with a football game sandwiched between; took only 12 hours."

After Ralph Curtis romped to a Colorado touchdown in the opening moments, Glassford said he adjusted his defenses.

Halfback Dennis Korinek was used at end on one play in order to confuse the Buffs.

"He was more surprised than they were, however, and they were watching him on this play which called for a pass."

The offensive preparations called for a diversified passing attack with Fullbacks Ray Novak and George Cifra, and Halfback Jim Cederdahl helping John Bordogna with the passing.

"We figured that would take some of the pressure off John," he said that Bordogna was "throwing much better" and praised the junior quarterback's tremendous wrist action.

"We went out there with the idea that we could win," he added. "We knew what the capabilities of our boys was and, as the game wore on, a lot of them began to show what we had been expecting of them."

If the Huskers are to get by Missouri Saturday, they will still have to correct some mistakes, according to Glassford.

Scout Ray Prochaska reported on Mizou's victory over Iowa State.

George Holmes was master of ceremonies.

Huskers Warned Of Missouri Split-T, Spread Offense Tricks

By The Star Sports Editor

SCOUT Ray Prochaska warned the Nebraska Cornhuskers Monday of Missouri's tricky offense.

Prochaska, who watched Coach Don Faurt's Tigers defeat Kansas State and Iowa State, also had kind words for the Missouri defensive play.

He mentioned Guard Jim Martin, who "was too tough for either Maryland or California to handle."

The play of Martin was one of the reasons Maryland, rated one of the nation's elite, had to come from behind to edge the Tigers, 13-10.

A capacity crowd of 39,000 is expected to fill Memorial Stadium Saturday for the Husker-Missouri joust.

Business Manager A. J. Lewandowski announced that all reserved seats have been sold, but that 3,000 bleacher seats remain at $2 each.

"And they are going fast," warned Uncle Lew.

Prochaska said that Missouri used their usual split-T formation in dumping Iowa State, 19-0. He warned that Faurt might go into the spread formation if the Huskers get ahead.

Secret Missouri practice sessions were held last week, Prochaska said, in order to groom a new backfield combination for the Iowa State game.

Quarterback Jim Hook, who handles duties off the spread, was shifted to left halfback; Tony Scardino was at quarterback; Fullback Bull Rowekamp was used at right halfback, and Halfback Nick Karras was moved to fullback.

Rowekamp, the West Point transfer, was described by Prochaska as being "one of the best we'll see."

It was the running and passing of Scardino, 160-pound mite, that whipped the Huskers at Columbia last fall.

A scrimmage was the order for squad members who did not see action against Colorado. The remainder of the squad watched movies and went through an over-all defensive and offensive rehearsal.

All hands, except End George Mink and Halfback Bob Reynolds, were expected to be in shape for the Tigers.

This includes Halfback Dierks Rolston, Guard Jerry Paulson and End Jerry Yeager, who missed the Colorado trip because of injuries.

Mink, who broke a collar bone at Boulder, is through for the season.

Reynolds, who appeared briefly in the last seconds to try a field goal, will not be used "unless we know he is positively all right," Glassford said. He has recovered remarkably fast from a shoulder separation in the Kansas State game.

Movies Don't Show Hardy Stepped Out Of Bounds

By NORRIS ANDERSON Sports Editor, The Star

MOVIES of the Nebraska-Colo-rado game did not show whether Carroll Hardy, Buffalo halfback, stepped out of bounds on his 87-yard run that enabled Colorado to tie the Nebraska, 16-16, Saturday at Boulder.

That's what Coach J. William Glassford of the Cornhuskers told the University Club Quarterbacks Monday noon.

"There were too many people standing along the sidelines," the Husker coach explained. Glassford and his entire bench were up arguing at the time that Hardy had stepped out of bounds twice, once near the 50-yard line.

"Dennis Korinek pressured Hardy and Andy Leach finally halted him on the Nebraska nine. From there, Colorado scored in four plays to tie up the game," Glassford told the Quarterbacks.

Explaining the presence of Bobby Reynolds to try a field goal with 30 seconds remaining, Glassford said: "We had to put Bob in two plays earlier (for use as a decoy, out of playing action) because we would have had to take a penalty for too much time and the clock was ticking off the last seconds."

Reynolds' return was speeded by the fact that there was more tissue left in his shoulder separation than had first been noted, Glassford said.

As to why the Huskers tried the field goal on third down, instead of fourth, with 30 seconds left, the Husker coach explained: "The seconds were going awfully fast and we were afraid we would run out of time. If we'd run out of time, you Quarterbacks would probably be attacking me now with your knives and forks."

Glassford, in issuing warm praise for his squad, said that "The best thing of all is that we have as many men playing the game from the bench as we have on the field."

Rooting from the bench became so rabid, he explained, that at times he had to restrain players from jumping to the sidelines.

Announcement on how much Reynolds will play against Missouri Saturday will come later in the week, Glassford said.

"It won't be hard for me to die when the time comes," smiled the Husker coach. "I died a thousand deaths Saturday."

Glassford said his defensive

plans were to keep Zack Jordan, triple-threat Colorado backfield ace, hemmed inside so he couldn't get rolling on any of his dangerous run-or-pass plays where he runs laterally to either side.

"We did a good job, too, considering that Jordan's passes gained only 56 yards and his running never bothered us."

Although praising all of his defensive hands, he pointed to Linebacker Verl Scott and Tackle Ed Husemann as "doing tremendous jobs."

He thought that his squad "finished as strong as it started" and said that the altitude had no effect. Flying from Lincoln Saturday morning, the squad returned to the Capital City Saturday night.

"The whole trip, with a football game sandwiched between; took only 12 hours."

After Ralph Curtis romped to a Colorado touchdown in the opening moments, Glassford said he adjusted his defenses.

Halfback Dennis Korinek was used at end on one play in order to confuse the Buffs.

"He was more surprised than they were, however, and they were watching him on this play which called for a pass."

The offensive preparations called for a diversified passing attack with Fullbacks Ray Novak and George Cifra, and Halfback Jim Cederdahl helping John Bordogna with the passing.

"We figured that would take some of the pressure off John," he said that Bordogna was "throwing much better" and praised the junior quarterback's tremendous wrist action.

"We went out there with the idea that we could win," he added. "We knew what the capabilities of our boys was and, as the game wore on, a lot of them began to show what we had been expecting of them."

If the Huskers are to get by Missouri Saturday, they will still have to correct some mistakes, according to Glassford.

Scout Ray Prochaska reported on Mizou's victory over Iowa State.

George Holmes was master of ceremonies.

THREE newcomers broke into the Class B and C ratings this week as the prep grid season moves rapidly down to the wire.

Fullerton, dropped from the ratings three weeks ago, returns to the Class B pickings at seventh place after dumping previously unbeaten David City 14-0. Rated fourth last week, the loss dropped John Rumbaugh's Scouts to the lower rung.

Ansley and Syracuse made their way into the Class C listings at eighth and ninth place respectively. It is the first appearance for Ansley in the top ten while Syracuse had shifted around in the ratings during the first three weeks of the season. Ansley made its debut in the charmed group after knocking off Arnold, 36-13.

A 12-12 tie with Gibbon in the opening game of the 1952 campaign is the only blemish on Ansley's record.

The Rockets leaped into ninth place after dumping Edgar, 19-0. A 13-6 loss to Weeping Water dropped the Rockets from the top ten two weeks ago.

Broken Bow in Class B and Grant in Class C return as the leaders in their respective classes. The Indians wrapped up the Northern Division Trans-Nebraska Conference title last week by slamming Loup City, 27-7, while Grant had an idle date.

Cozad is still the runnerup team in Class B while Gering retained its third place standing. The Haymakers edged Holdrege 21-14 to run their win string to five for the season and Gering thumped Kimball, 25-0.

York boosted its stock from fifth to fourth place by routing Albion, 20-7. Tekamah stepped into the fifth place berth although failing to see action last week.

Displaying one of the most potent offensive attacks in the state, the Minden Whippets are the new sixth place team. Held to an abbreviated schedule this fall due to a polio epidemic, the Whippets have rolled to 153 points in four games.

Aurora shipped a notch to eighth place by dropping its first game of the season, a 20-7 decision to Class A Falls City, Sidney with but a single loss to date held onto the ninth place rung by nipping Oshkosh, 19-13. It was the second straight loss for the Oshkosh Eagles and dropped them from eighth to last place in the Class C ratings.

After rolling over Decatur with ease, 39-0, the Pender Pendragons tightened their grasp on the Class C runnerup spot. The Pendragons have piled up 239 points in seven games compared to their opponents seven.

Rushville, also a high scoring grid power, retained its third place berth by stomping Valentine, 48-6. Rushville has tallied 271 points in six games holding their foes to seven.

Battle Creek, holder of the Corn Belt Conference crown, stepped up a notch to sixth place after blasting Atkinson, 27-7. Clarks gained the seventh place nod after beating Osceola, 46-0.

Blair, Wymore and Friend were dropped from this week's ratings to make way for the new teams.

Tigers Scan Cornhusker Spy Report

Missouri Scout Tells Of Nebraska's Ability

By The Associated Press
COLUMBIA, Mo.—Coach Don Faurout let his University of Missouri regulars off with a 30-minute drill Monday but they spent more time than that listening to Scout John Simmons detail the abilities of the Nebraska Cornhuskers, next foe on the Tiger Big Seven schedule.

Coach Faurout, who was encouraged by the performance of his revamped Missouri backfield last Saturday, said he'll stick by the changes this week. He added that his squad appeared to have emerged from the Iowa State game last week without serious injury.

Jayhawks Rest

MANHATTAN, Kan.—Coach Bill Meek gave his Kansas State football players a holiday to recover from their bruising battle against Oklahoma last Saturday. Meek said he thought the rest would help put the boys in better trim for their game with Kansas here this week.

Halfback Corky Taylor was the only casualty of the Oklahoma game. He suffered a rib injury. Meek said he didn't know yet how much Taylor would be hampered by the injury.

Wind Stops Cyclones

AMES, Ia.—Coach Abe Stuber dismissed the Iowa State College football squad after a short limbering up drill because of chilly windy weather. The Cyclones heard the scouting report on Oklahoma, their opponent here Saturday.

Offensive right end Bob Rohwedder twisted his knee last Saturday at Missouri and will not be ready for the Oklahoma game, Stuber said. There were no other major injuries.

Fink Replaces Fiss

LAWRENCE, Kan.—Joe Fink, defensive end, was chosen to take over the linebacking duties of Galen Fiss, who suffered a dislocated shoulder in the Southern Methodist game Saturday.

Coach J. V. Sikes listed these other shifts in the lineup of his Kansas grid squad:

Duane Unruh will replace Fink at end; Harold Patterson, offensive end, will take John Konek's halfback spot; Bud Bixler, guard, will move over to Orville Poppe's tackle position, and Dick Rossmann will step into the guard vacancy. Konek and Poppe, defensive regulars, are hobbled by injuries and may not be in shape for this week's Big Seven tussle with Kansas State, Sikes said.

OU At Full Strength

NORMAN, Okla.—Trainers announced they expect Oklahoma to be at full strength Saturday for Big Seven football rival Iowa State.

The Sooners first string limbered up in sweat suits while reserves scrimmaged for an hour with freshmen.

End Carl Allison, tackle Roger Nelson and halfback Buddy Leake are expected to be recovered from various injuries in time for the Cyclones.

Bufs Study Passing

BOULDER, Colo.—Pass defense will be the No. 1 item on the Colorado football team's schedule this week as they prepare for a non-conference game with Utah at Salt Lake City Saturday.

A leaky secondary defense was the big reason for Nebraska's two touchdowns against Colorado last Saturday. Coach Dal Ward said the Buffaloes came through the game without any serious injuries.

Dry Conditions Continue Make Hunters Suffer

It was the same old story of hot weather, dry cover and few ducks because of the lack of water as the State Game Commission issued its special hunting report Monday.

Area reports turned in by Game Commission officers:

PERCE, WAYNE, MADISON, STANTON AND CUMING COUNTIES—Hunting pressure fair. Success poor. Noted but one party of hunters in the field. Three arrests for loaded shotguns in cars. No ducks. (Warden Bob Benson).

BOX BUTTE, MORRILL AND CHEYENNE COUNTIES—Morrell and Cheyenne County pheasant hunting fair. Duck success poor. Weather mild. Few hunters. Quite a few pheasants lost in heavy cover. (Warden Joe Ulrich).

PHILIPS, KEARNEY, HARLAN AND FRANKLIN COUNTIES—Pheasant hunting fair. Some bag limits but average about one bird each. Cover continues extremely heavy. Warm weather and dust unfit for hunting. (Warden Sam Grimes).

SCOTTSBLUFF, BANNER, KIMBALL AND SOUTH HALF SIOUX COUNTIES—Pheasant hunting poor. Cover very heavy and dry. Birds wild. Very few ducks. Weather clear and warm. No duck migration. (Warden George E. Weidman).

CHASE, HAYES, DUNDY AND HITCHCOCK COUNTIES—Pheasant hunting fair. Birds wild. Cover heavy. Weather hot and dry. No ducks. (Warden H. Lee Flowers).

Big Ten Race Narrows To Purdue And Michigan

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
CHICAGO (AP)—Unless the upset bing in the Big Ten continues, the conference's representative in the 1953 Rose Bowl game will be decided when Purdue invades Michigan Nov. 15.

It has been years since the Big Ten has been disrupted so thoroughly by underdogs turning into lions as in this season. Typical of what is going on is the plight of Illinois, the defending champion and a favorite to repeat for the crown.

The Illini, struck by injuries and illness to key players, is the caboose team of the league with three successive loop losses without a win.

The only pre-season favorite to produce as expected is Purdue which trampled Illinois 40-12 Saturday and disposed of Iowa and Ohio State previously to remain unbeaten in Big Ten action. Purdue has one loss for the entire campaign, 26-14 by Notre Dame, and a 20-20 stalemate in its opener at Penn State.

Michigan has been the big surprise, surging through three conference games without defeat after a slow start and taking over the favorite's role from Ohio State and Wisconsin.

HOLYOKE, Mass. (AP)—Mike Gillo, 164, New Haven, Conn., got off the floor in the first round to bang out a seventh round technical knockout verdict over Irish Frankie Keating, 162, Wallingford, Conn., in their scheduled 8-round fight in Valley Arena.

A looping left spilled Gillo to the canvas in that first session, but he floored Keating in the next round for a 9-count before gaining the triumph at 2:31 of the seventh.

Short Work Week Is Ahead For Rocket, Link Gridders

Lincoln's two Class A teams, Lincoln High and Northeast, get abbreviated drill sessions this week the Rockets because of having their game with Benson slated for Thursday and the Links because of a two-day trip to Alliance. The Links, who'll take it easy with nothing stronger than a little dummy scrimmage tonight and tomorrow night, are scheduled to leave Lincoln Thursday noon.

The team will work out on the Broken Bow High School Field Thursday afternoon, spend the night at Broken Bow, and move on to Alliance Friday, where their meeting with the Bulldogs is slated for 8 p.m. (MST).

Three Links are still on the doubtful list. Dick Dinges and Mike Edwards are still recuperating from knee injuries and Jack Curtis has a charley horse.

Northeast, with one of its toughest games of the season coming up, will work on punting and passing tonight and conclude with signal practice Wednesday night. Monday night's general workout was a light one, with attention to fundamentals.

Coach Ben Galloway reported his squad at full strength, with only Quarterback Howard Thrapp having to take it easy in drills because of a charley horse. The game is slated for O. N. Magee Memorial Stadium, 7:30 p.m.

Matson Is Better Than McElhenny Says Kuharich

CHICAGO (AP)—Joe Kuharich, coach of the Chicago Cardinals, said Monday he would rather have Ollie Matson than the San Francisco 49er's Hugh McElhenny.

This was in response to a question and set the tempo for straight-from-the-shoulders answers during the weekly Herald-American Quarterback Luncheon.

"Matson is a better all-around player in every respect," said Kuharich, who coached the ball-carrying star to 1951 All-America honors at the University of San Francisco.

Matson, a fine defensive player, was Kuharich's first Cardinal draft choice over McElhenny.

ON MAT CARD—Pat O'Connor, the New Zealand strongman, will be making his first Lincoln appearance here Tuesday night when he tangles with Bob Orton of Kansas City in the main event of the weekly wrestling show.

Singleton Deftly Decisions Spano

CHICAGO (AP)—Bobby Singleton, the South Bend, Ind., workman, deftly poked out a unanimous decision victory over Tony Spano, Chicago, in the eight-round main event at Raimbo Arena.

Singleton weighed 133½, Spano 132. The pair previously had fought to a draw.

Singleton was much too rough for Spano, however. He landed solidly throughout the bout and his body punches were particularly effective. Neither man was floored.

New Zealand Ace Slated For Duty Tonight

It will be New Zealand's Pat O'Connor and Bob Orton of Kansas City matching holds and brute strength tonight in the main event of the weekly wrestle show at the fairgrounds arena.

O'Connor, making his debut in the Capital City, is one of the leading challengers for the heavyweight crown, now held by Lou Thesz, and has just returned from a wrestling tour of the east coast where he had several television engagements. Orton is considered well up on the list of heavyweight contenders and like O'Connor, has just completed a series of television shows.

Greek Champ Walter Sirois will get another chance to pick up his first win in the local ring tonight when he tangles with Emil Dusek of Omaha in the semi-final bout. Last week Sirois was forced to settle for a draw with Lincoln's Howard Pierce.

Pierce gets a change in opponents in the opening bout, meeting Dick Dusek, nephew of the Omaha meemies, in the one fall, 30-minute affair.

1952 Termed 'Banner Year' In Upper Basin Dam Work

Oahe Said 5 Per Cent Completed

MITCHELL, S. D. (INS)—Col. H. S. Miller, the army engineers' Omaha district chief, said Monday that good weather has made 1952 a "banner year" for construction work on flood-control dams in the upper Missouri Basin.

In a report before a meeting of the South Dakota coordinating committee at Mitchell, Col. Miller said work on the Fort Randall Dam has advanced to a point where "we now stand on the threshold of reaping initial flood control benefits."

He added that work on the Oahe Dam is now about five per cent completed with "overall project planning" expected to be about 49 per cent complete by June 30 of next year.

Col. Miller said work has progressed "well into the second half of the construction phase" at Fort Randall and that plans are under way to complete the final portions of embankment and relocation and clearing in the reservoir area.

The first power from the project is expected in November, 1953, he added.

The second stage of the embankment for Oahe Dam is scheduled to be completed next fall. Col. Miller reported, with contracts for additional earthwork, intake towers and tunnels, control shafts and downstream structures due to be let in 1953 "if sufficient funds are appropriated."

LEWIS REVIEWS BACK TO WORK ORDER—John L. Lewis, UMW president, at a Washington, D.C., news conference Monday afternoon, reads his "go-to-work" telegram which he sent to his aids in the nation's soft coal fields to order resumption of mining while a decision is made on the industry's appeal for approval of the $1.90 a day pay boost agreed upon the new UMW contract. ## United Drive Brings $355,327 Total; Campaign Now At 76 Per Cent Of Goal

The sixth day's united Community Chest-Red Cross fund-raising drive produced $44,908. Total funds, announced at a report luncheon at the Chamber of Commerce, now total $355,327, or 76 per cent of the goal—$467,653.

A summary of Monday's reporting is:

Advance Gifts—John F. Lawlor, leader: $22,120.

Employees (Classified Division)—John M. Spray, leader: $22,518.

Womens Residential Division—Mrs. W. Avon Fraser, leader: $270.

After the reports had been given by Walter S. Henrich, general chairman, stated to the workers that hard work this week would see a successful conclusion to the campaign.

"I am convinced," he said, "that after a week end analysis of our master lists there is remaining enough outstanding subscriptions to put us over the top. A test check was made of two of the four groups in the employees classified division. We found that no reports had yet been turned in by only partial reports received. There was enough outstanding if brought in to put the group over the top. We are convinced beyond a doubt that the over-all goal can be reached—if the workers will properly cover their assignments."

As a result of the analysis a breakfast meeting had been called by John M. Spray, head of the employees division, at 7:30 a.m. Tuesday morning in the main dining room of the Chamber of Commerce. Each one will be given a part of the master list to which assigned showing the outstanding reports that should be collected and turned in.

Twenty-six more firms reported that their employees had reached their respective goals. So far 224 firms or institutions have reported their employees have attained their goal. The 26 listed Monday are:

Alison Investment Company, The Bruning Company, Leo Christian—Contractor, Cook Point & Varnish Company, Davis & Healy—Attorneys, East Lincoln Christian Church, Farmers Insurance Group, First National Bank, Paul Kees—Architect, Lincoln Mutual Life Insurance Company, Rogers Plumbing & Heating, Martin & Martin—Accountants, The Midwest Life Insurance Company, Dr. K. E. Lookabaugh, Dr. Rudolph J. Meyer, Clarence Miles—Attorney, William Nieman—Contractor, Pansing & Guentel—Attorneys, Selt-Glass & Paint Company, South Street Temple, State Savings & Loan, County Superintendent of Schools Office, Tristate Development Company, Unthank & Unthank—Architects, Western Tent and Awning Company. Three more Oscars were given Monday for attaining goals of their respective divisions. They were given to Kenneth Brown as breakfast meeting had been called by John M. Spray, head of the employees division, at 7:30 a.m. Tuesday morning in the main dining room of the Chamber of Commerce. Each one will be given a part of the master list to which assigned showing the outstanding reports that should be collected and turned in.

Probe Asked Of Oil Money To Support Ike

GARY, Ind. (INS)—Rep. Ray J. Madden (D-Ind.) Monday demanded congressional investigations of what he said was the sending of "barrels of money" by oil millionaires into the Midwest in behalf of the presidential candidacy of Gen. Dwight Eisenhower.

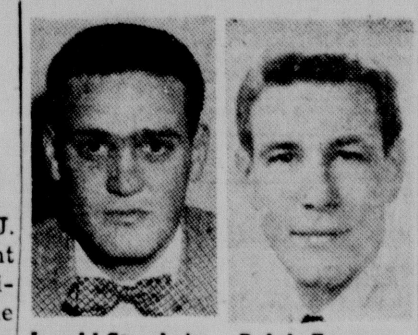

Madden addressed an audience in Gary, Ind., just before a major address by President Truman. Madden charged that oilmen, after Eisenhower endorsed the proposal for return of the Tidelands to the states, raised a huge sum in behalf of the general's campaign.

"I first knew of this fund when Democratic workers of Lake County told me that they had been offered $20 to $30 a day to switch to the Republicans."

"Then, I heard that the money had been sent to other parts of the Midwest."

"This tideland oil deal, sanctioned by Gen. Eisenhower, makes the Teapot Dome scandal look like chicken feed. Former Secretary of the Interior Ickes estimated that tideland oil involved a sum of approximately $5 billion dollars."

"I believe that this deal will be a national scandal and I feel that the Elections Committees of both the United States Senate and the House of Representatives should investigate it immediately."

Rhodes Scholar Candidates Are 2 Lincolns

Jerrold Lee Strasheim, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alex C. Strasheim, 1003 So. 48th, and Ralph B. Emmons, son of Ralph L. Emmons, 721 So. 19th, have been named to represent the University of Nebraska in competition for 1953 Rhodes scholarships.

Strasheim is a second-year law student and Emmons is a graduate student in philosophy at the University of Nebraska.

Selection of the candidates was made by a special University committee headed by Dean Walter E. Miller of the Arts and Sciences College.

Strasheim and Emmons will go before a state Rhodes selection committee on Dec. 10 with several other students from Nebraska colleges.

Two candidates chosen by the state committee will go before a final selection board in Des Moines on Dec. 13.

Both Strasheim and Emmons are graduates of Lincoln High School. Strasheim is a member of the Nebraska Law Review Staff and led his class of 37 in scholarship last year. He has won several scholastic awards at the University.

Emmons was an honor graduate at the University last June. He is a member of two major scholastic honorary societies—Phi Beta Kappa and Sigma Xi. He was a recipient this year of a $1,200 J. A. Cobby award made on the basis of scholarship and leadership.

The regional selection board in Des Moines will choose four students from the 6-state area for Rhodes Scholarships. Each scholarship is worth approximately $2,400 and enables the student to study two years at Oxford University.

Rites At Wymore For G. W. Shoff, Pioneer Resident

WYMORE, Neb. (Lincoln Star Special)—Funeral services for George W. Shoff, 85, Wymore pioneer resident, will be held at 2:30 p.m. Tuesday at the Christian Church here. He died at his home. He played an active part in the building of the Burlington railroad to Wymore.

Surviving are his wife, Luella; three daughters, Mrs. Ulla Miller and Mrs. Elma Shaw, both of Wymore; and Mrs. Dona Belle Heaton of Beatrice; three sons, George A. of Clovis, N. M., Clarence of Colby, Kan., and Phillip of Wymore; 15 grandchildren and five great grandchildren.

Change In Rotary Nomination Plan Draws Opposition

NORFOLK, Neb. (AP)—Rotarians attending the 17th district convention Monday differed on a proposed change in the method of nominating district governors.

Past District Governor William C. Rathke of Glenwood, La., representing a committee named by last summer's district assembly presented the proposal that a nominating committee of five submit a nomination to the conference each year. Opposition resulted in tabling of the motion.

Candidates for district governor are Peter A. Meehan, York; and Don L. Harding, Iowa City.

City Council Approves 30 Mile Speed Limit On Arterials

The City Council has established a 30 miles per hour speed limit on Lincoln arterials.

In so doing, the Council voted four to three against an amendment by Councilman Clark Jeary to raise the limit to 35 miles per hour. Councilwoman Mrs. Fern Hubbard Orme and Councilmen Roy Sheaff, Chauncey W. D. Kinsey and Victor E. Anderson voted against the higher limit.

The new speed law sets a limit of 25 on all streets other than arterials. The old limits were 15 in congested areas, 20 on streets other than arterials and 25 on arterials.

The new law does allow a speed of 35 miles per hour on the following sections of arterials:

48th, 0 to Holdrege.
O, 3rd to the west city limits.
O, 28th to the east city limits.
10th, South to the south city limits.
10th, Claremont to the north city limits.
Oak, 10th to the west city limits.
Highway 77, Oak at 10th to 14th.

Governor Holding Off On Resignation Of Gus Rydman

The resignation of Gus Rydman, Omaha, from the State Liquor Commission, is not immediately being accepted by Gov. Val Peterson.

Rydman has been ill at Omaha and last week offered his resignation.

But the governor said Monday he was not accepting it at this time and hoped that after a period of rest Rydman would be able to return to his Statehouse office.

If the Omaha finds he can not return, Peterson plans to discuss a new appointment with whoever is elected Nov. 4 as governor.

Rydman was named to the commission in the spring of 1951 to succeed Blaine Young of Omaha. The term expires next May.

B-29 WITH 15 ABOARD MISSING IN TYPHOON AREA

MANILA (Tuesday) (INS)—An American B-29 Superfort with 15 men aboard was being hunted over a wide area today after reportedly flying directly into the center of a typhoon that swept across the central Philippines Monday.

The Superfort was tracking the typhoon, nicknamed "Wilma," on a flight from Guam to Clark Field near Manila.

The Manila Times reported that it flew "right into the eye" of the storm.

Two other persons were listed as missing by the newspaper.

The Times said U.S. Air Force planes and a Navy ship were dispatched to search for the Superfort. It was officially listed as missing by Far East Air Force headquarters in Tokyo.

Americans Donate Books

MANILA (AP)—Americans, privately and in groups, have donated more than 250,000 books to the Philippines Library of Congress.

Thirty-five Recommended

The 35 miles per hour limit on all arterials had been recommended by the Lincoln Traffic Commission.

Capt. Willis Manchester of the Police Traffic Department appeared before the Council Monday in favor of the lower speed. There has to be some room for tolerance of speeds beyond the legal limit, he said, as the courts will not recognize an arrest made on speeds just one or two miles per hour in excess of the limit.

Also, he said, if all arterials were 35 miles per hour, the Department would be saying it was safe to travel at that speed when, at all times, it wouldn't be.

On O between 17th and 27th, for instance, it would not be safe, he said, to travel 35 miles per hour. Also, he said, such things as the type of parking permitted and the narrowness of the streets effect the speeds that should be allowed.
